MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Credentials are required for access to the press box for all University of Alabama home baseball games. All media credential requests must be made in writing at least 24 hours in advance, to Rich Davi in the Alabama Athletics Communications Office. Credentials may be picked up at the first base ticket window 90 minutes prior to first pitch. There is no reserved media parking for Alabama baseball games. Those covering the Tide parking should be parking lots surrounding Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

INTERVIEWS

Alabama head coach Mitch Gaspard and student-athletes are available for interviews in person or, with prior arrangement, by telephone. Alabama practices will be at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. Practices are open to members of the media, with Gaspard and student-athletes available prior to the start of practice, depending upon class schedules, travel or other plans. Media wishing to attend practice should contact Rich Davi in the Alabama Athletics Communications Office by 10 a.m., to obtain the day's practice schedule. On game day, only postgame interviews are allowed. Please arrange all interviews through Davi at (205) 348-3550.

RADIO BROADCASTS

Visiting teams wishing to broadcast games from Sewell-Thomas Stadium are provided access to one phone line. The calls are charged to the visiting radio network. Should an additional line be required, broadcasters must arrange their own hookup through the University of Alabama Telecommunications Office at (205) 348-6300. Visiting radio broadcasters must call in advance or have their media relations office notify Alabama that they will be broadcasting the game and will require credentials.

INTERNET

Information about University of Alabama athletics can be found on the internet at RollTide.com. Information on the site includes rosters, schedules, results, stats, box scores and biographical information. In addition, members of the media can access helpful information on covering the Tide and credential requests. From the website, Tide fans also can find a link to listen to Alabama games live via the internet and follow home game action via live stats. Wireless internet is available throughout Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

SOCIAL MEDIA

News, video and features on the Alabama baseball team also can be found on Facebook, Twitter and YouTube by searching for AlabamaBSB.

GAME SERVICES

Complete team and individual statistics (box score), quotes and a running play-by-play are provided to the media who cover the Crimson Tide at home. Copies of stats, game notes, media guides and roster sheets are available in the media workroom. Postgame interviews with Alabama head coach Mitch Gaspard and UA players will take place on the field immediately following the conclusion of the games. Ample electrical outlets and wireless internet access are available at Sewell-Thomas Stadium for media to write and file their story.

DIGITAL PACKAGE/FTP INFO

The University of Alabama, through Crimson Tide Sports Marketing and the Crimson Tide Sports Network, offers a weekly 15-minute satellite feed consisting of interviews with coaches and athletes, taped highlights and a narrated taped package. The package is offered September through May. During the season, the baseball team is included in this package. For its key home games, Alabama may offer a feed following the game that night. Please call Tom Roberts at CTSM (205) 348.9610 for more details including the time and coordinates if you are interested in taking the feed. To obtain videotaped footage of the team, please contact CTSM at the above number.

SEC VIDEO FEEDS/TELEVISION

Participating news affiliates can also select individual clips to insert directly into online stories. Television stations also have access to an FTP account to run content on-air. The SEC Affiliate Network is managed through XOS Digital. To join, please request a participation form from the program's director, Anna Marie Neri, at aneri@xosdigital.com or at (407) 670.5049.

RADIO NETWORK

Alabama baseball can be heard on the radio by tuning into one of the 20 stations state-wide that are part of the Crimson Tide Sports Network (CTSN). Chris Stewart will provide play-by-play for the 14th straight season and Lee Tracey returns for his third season on the baseball radio broadcast crew.

Life on The University of Alabama campus is defined by opportunities. If you want to get involved, join one of more than 350 student organizations, help plan concerts and speaker series, participate in intramural teams or run for student government.

If you enjoy the arts, you can take advantage of a rich and varied schedule of musical, dance and theatre performances, art galleries and exhibitions, lectures and readings by writers, poets and experts on every topic imaginable. You can enrich your knowledge of the state and University's history by visiting one of UA's fine museums, which house countless historical artifacts and offer hands-on exploration opportunities.

From the architecture on campus to the landscaping, the University of Alabama campus is one of the most beautiful places in the state of Alabama.

The Ferguson Center was completed in 1973. Plans at the time called for the building to be constructed over Woods Hall, but it was built slightly to the north thanks to a student campaign to save the art building.

The Ferguson Center Game Room is the perfect place to unwind, test your skill at a video game, play a friendly game of pool or Ping-Pong, or enter a campus tournament. With seven pool tables, video games, a Ping-Pong table, computer gaming and televisions, the Game Room offers a fun escape to the daily pressures of college life.

The University of Alabama offers a complete educational, cultural and social experience. Whatever your interests, you'll find a group, an organization, an activity or a program that will appeal to you at UA.

The newly expanded Student Recreation Center offers first-class recreation facilities to students, faculty and staff. It includes two multi-use gyms, nine multi-purpose courts, weight machines, 1/8-mile jogging track, extensive cardio area, locker rooms, indoor swimming pool, dry and steam saunas, 12 lighted tennis courts, four aerobics rooms, eight racquetball courts and a squash court – together encompassing more than 200,000 square feet. The facility's outdoor aquatic area, which opened in the summer of 2003, features a lazy river, lap swim, large water-park-type slide and plenty of deck space.

TOP RANKED

Ranked among the top 50 public universities in the nation in U.S. News and World Report's annual college rankings for more than a decade, the University of Alabama ranked 31st among public universities, its highest ranking ever, in the 2012 rankings. UA's most recent college rankings include:

- The School of Law is ranked 29th among all law schools in the nation, spring 2012.
- The Manderson Graduate School of Business is listed 4th among the "top 10 most popular business schools," based on the percent of accepted applicants who chose to attend the school.
- The School of Social Work is ranked 52nd nationally, spring 2012.
- Alabama's fall 2011 freshman class ranked second in the nation among public universities in the enrollment of National Merit Scholars, with 181 scholars enrolled, up by more than 50 over the previous year's 128.
- In the spring of 2012, three UA students were named Goldwater Scholars and one was named a Truman Scholar, bringing UA's totals for the past 25 years to 37 Goldwater Scholars and eight Truman Scholars. Alabama has produced 15 Rhodes Scholars and numerous Hollings Scholars.
- The UA Libraries rank 56th out of 115 U.S. and Canadian university libraries qualifying for membership in the prestigious Association of Research Libraries and 32nd among public university libraries. UA has made dramatic improvement in the rankings, moving up from 102nd overall and 64th among public university libraries in the past 10 years.
- Enrollment at Alabama reached a record high of 31,747 for fall 2011. The past entering freshman class, at 5,772 students, was the largest in UA history and included 1,614 students who had a 4.0 or higher cumulative high school GPA.
- The undergraduate program at the Culverhouse School of Accountancy at Alabama is No. 20 in Public Accounting Report's most recent annual professors' survey. The UA graduate program in accounting was ranked 24.
- PRWeek Magazine has recognized the public relations program in Alabama's College of Communication and Information Sciences as one of the top five programs in the nation each of the past four years.
- Participation in original research and creative activities is becoming a hallmark of the undergraduate experience at Alabama. More than 400 undergraduates now showcase their research and creative activity projects at UA's annual "Undergraduate Research and Creative Activity Conference."
- Alabama students are committed to community service: In the 2010-2011 academic year alone, more than 20,000 UA students completed 780,000-plus hours of community service with 120 community partners. Nearly 6,300 students participated in 150 service-learning courses.
- Alabama has been named to the President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll by the Corporation for National and Community Service. The Community Service Honor Roll is the highest federal recognition a school can achieve for its commitment to service learning and civic engagement.

MAL M. MOORE

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

The University of Alabama's director of athletics since 1999, Mal Moore has made an indelible mark on one of the nation's most storied athletic programs, leading a department that has enjoyed tremendous success athletically and academically and has undergone an unprecedented period of growth during his tenure.

Through his guidance, Alabama's athletic department remains focused on his vision of having all Crimson Tide athletic teams and student-athletes competitive at the highest level nationally while continuing to elevate athletic facilities at the Capstone to premier status nationally for all sports.

During his tenure as director of athletics, Moore has overseen more than $200 million of capital improvements to University of Alabama athletic facilities. Those projects have encompassed the entire scope of all Crimson Tide athletic programs and have benefitted every Alabama student-athlete, coach and administrator.

Throughout his career, Moore has worked with a diversified field of constituents, from fellow coaches and former players, to fans and the business community. All of those experiences and relationships – in addition to his ability to unify those many constituents – have made him the ideal person to lead Alabama athletics in the 21st century.

Moore's dedication to and love of the University of Alabama was recognized on March 28, 2007, when, as a permanent tribute to his lifelong contribution to the University of Alabama, the Board of Trustees of the University of Alabama officially dedicated the facility formerly known as the Football Building as the Mal M. Moore Athletic Facility.

Under Moore's direction, Alabama's athletic teams have produced national championship teams in football (2009, 2011 and 2012), gymnastics (2002, 2011 and 2012), women's golf (2012) and softball (2012) and Southeastern Conference championships in football, basketball, baseball, gymnastics, men's golf, women's golf, men's cross country and softball.

Alabama athletes have earned some of the highest honors the SEC and NCAA have to offer, including SEC Athlete of the Year, SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year, NCAA Top VIII, NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships and NCAA Sportsperson of the Year. These honors are over and above the individual conference and national titles that Alabama athletes continue to bring home to the Capstone on a regular basis.

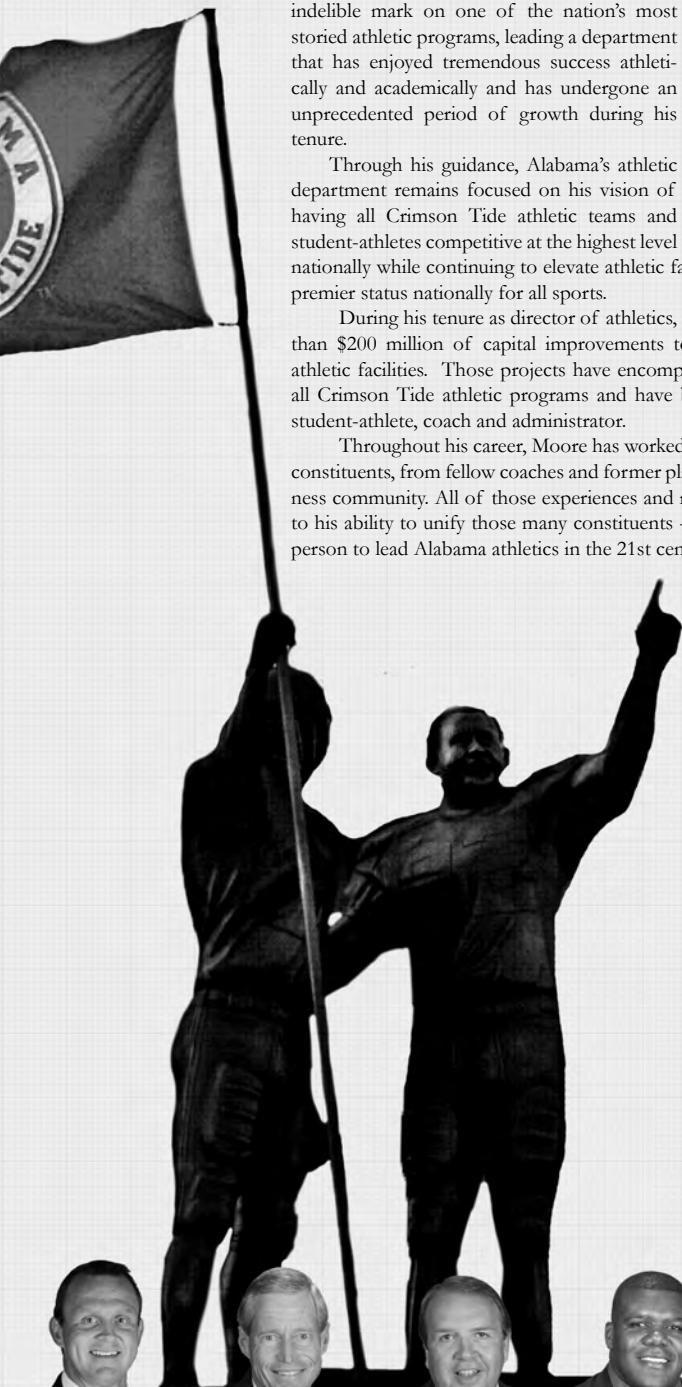

In addition to making his mark on Alabama, Moore also has made a national impact as a key member of several prestigious NCAA and college football committees. Moore has served on the NCAA Division I Football Issues Committee, the SEC Athletic Directors Bowl Advisory Committee, and the Big Six Conferences Minority Coaches Forum.

Moore's distinguished record of service to UA began more than 50 years ago when he joined the Crimson Tide football squad as a scholarship player for coach Paul "Bear" Bryant from 1958-62. Moore has the distinction of being a part of 10 national championship football teams as a player, coach and athletic director (1961, 1964, 1965, 1973, 1978, 1979, 1992, 2009, 2011 and 2012), 17 SEC championships, and 39 bowl trips. He is the only individual connected with the Tide program to be a part of nine national football championships.

In 2011, Moore was elected to the State of Alabama Sports Hall of Fame for his accomplishments as a coach and an administrator. The National Football Foundation then named Moore the recipient of its 2012 John L. Toner Award winner, which goes annually to the athletic director who has "demonstrated superior administrative abilities and shown outstanding dedication to college athletics and particularly college football."

During a coaching career that spanned 31 years, Moore spent 22 of those at Alabama with stops at Montana State, Notre Dame and the NFL's St. Louis and Phoenix Cardinals. At Alabama, Moore started as Coach Bryant's graduate assistant in 1964 and then was defensive backfield coach for six seasons beginning in 1965 before becoming quarterbacks coach from 1971-82, also serving as the Tide's first offensive coordinator starting in 1975. He returned as Alabama's offensive coordinator under Gene Stallings from 1990-93 before moving into athletic administration.

A 1963 graduate of the University of Alabama, Moore holds both an undergraduate degree in sociology and a 1964 Master's Degree in secondary education from the Capstone. A native of Dozier, Ala., he was married to the former Charlotte Davis of Tuscaloosa for 41 years before she passed away after a long illness in 2010. Moore has one daughter, Mrs. Steve (Heather) Cook of Scottsdale, Ariz., a granddaughter, Anna Lee, and a grandson, Charles Cannon.

UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA

PRESIDENT DR. JUDY BONNER

Dr. Judith L. Bonner was named the 28th president of The University of Alabama on Nov. 1, 2012. Founded in 1831, the University is the state's flagship and a student-centered comprehensive research university.

Dr. Bonner recently served as interim president from March 5 until Aug. 31, 2012. She was promoted to executive vice president and provost on April 1, 2006, after serving as provost and vice president for Academic Affairs since March 2003. During the decade she served as provost, the University underwent transformational change growing from 19,000 students in 2003 to more than 33,600 in 2012. Each year, the academic strength of the student body and the faculty exceeded the record set the previous year.

Alabama's athletics programs likewise have excelled in recent years with four teams winning national championships in 2011-2012. Athletics Director Mal Moore lauds Dr. Bonner's commitment to athletics as well as academics. "Dr. Bonner has long been a supporter of Alabama athletics and I am excited about her leadership of our great University. We have a unique unity on our campus, a special bond between our athletics program and the University at-large. Dr. Bonner's leadership will only serve to enhance that relationship and the unity that has been such a vital part of our athletics and academic success over these many years," Moore said.

Dr. Bonner joined the faculty at The University of Alabama in 1981 as associate professor and head of the department of human nutrition and hospitality. She served as assistant academic vice president from 1985-1990 and as special assistant to the president from 1989-1991. Promoted to professor in 1988, she was named dean of the College of Human Environmental Sciences in 1989 and held that position until 2003. Prior to coming to UA, she held faculty appointments in the department of pediatrics at UAB and the department of medical dietetics at The Ohio State University.

Dr. Bonner earned her bachelor's and master's degrees from The University of Alabama and her Ph.D. from The Ohio State University, all in nutrition. Her research, focused on nutritional needs of chronically ill children and on eating disorders, has resulted in numerous publications.

Dr. Bonner is an active member of civic, scientific and professional organizations. Among other awards and honors, her accolades include the Distinguished Alumni Award from The Ohio State University, the AHEA Leader Award and the award for Outstanding Dietitian for the state of Alabama.

"WE HAVE SO MUCH TO BE PROUD OF AND SO MUCH TO LOOK FORWARD TO AND, TOGETHER WITH OUR ALUMNI, FANS, FRIENDS AND SUPPORTERS, WE WILL REMAIN COMMITTED TO EXCELLENCE AND QUALITY IN EVERYTHING WE DO."

- PRESIDENT DR. JUDY BONNER

ROLL MODELS

Alabama baseball gives back to the surrounding community.

The Alabama baseball team spent much of the 2012 fall working out and preparing for the upcoming season, but in their spare time the team was very active in the Tuscaloosa area with numerous community service projects.

The team visited various schools and nursing homes and hosted Halloween and Christmas parties for a number of school-aged children, all a part of head coach Mitch Gaspard's plan of being active and giving back to a community that has supported the Crimson Tide for many years.

"We want to be the most active team on the Alabama campus," Gaspard said. "We put in a lot of hours this fall, supporting the community and local schools. When fans come to watch us play, we want them to see our guys as more than just baseball players. Our support in the community is important. We have a lot of loyal baseball fans in Tuscaloosa and this is our way to give back and thank them for all of their support. We had a busy fall and we will continue to support the community this spring as well."

The baseball team spent numerous hours with students and the elderly over the fall, but the highlight of the semester took place at the Sprayberry Education Center, where the team hosted a Christmas party for the students and faculty.

Sprayberry is the special education facility for the Tuscaloosa County School System and serves the needs of children in five different programs, including preschool, multiple disabilities, autism, alternative and TARGET, for gifted education.

"This was fantastic to have the whole baseball team here," Sprayberry Principle John Barnacastle said. "Our kids loved it. It was a really good experience. I hope the team got as much out of it as our kids did and we look forward to doing this again in the future. I really appreciate coach Gaspard and the team for coming here and having such a great event."

Sprayberry Christmas Party

For the fourth straight year, the baseball team concluded the fall season with a Christmas Party at Sprayberry Education Center. The players brought gifts, signed baseballs and served the children treats during this event. The team led the group in Christmas carols and helped decorate the school's Christmas tree.

Gaspard and the Crimson Tide team hosted the event at the Sprayberry Center and provided the children with gifts and snacks for the event. The team also participated in the singing of Christmas carols and decorating the school's tree.

"We were truly honored to be a part of the Sprayberry Christmas party," Gaspard said. "Our guys did a great job with all the kids and we all had a great time. The students had a great time, too. I am glad we could do this today for a great school and a great group of children."

Project Angel Tree

As part of a long-standing Athletic Department tradition, the baseball team raised money for gifts for children whose parents are incarcerated and hosted a party at Coleman Coliseum. Former Alabama All-American and current New York Yankees relief pitcher David Robertson attended the event in 2010 and gave the Angel Tree a $1,500 gift card from Toys "R" Us to assist the project.

Miracle League of Tuscaloosa

During the 2012 fall semester, the baseball team spent a Saturday supporting the players of The Miracle League of Tuscaloosa. The Miracle League provides opportunities for children with disabilities to play baseball. The motto of the Miracle League, "Every child deserves a chance to play baseball."

Stars of the Future Reading Program - Holt Elementary

Throughout the 2012 fall schedule, members of the baseball team visited Holt Elementary School to read stories to the students.

2012-13 Alabama Baseball Community Outreach Events

Below is a listing of all the locations the 2013 Alabama Crimson Tide baseball team provided outreach to the local community:

- Friends of Jaclyn Foundation
- Halloween Extravaganza
- Capstone Village Retirement Community
 - Active Aging Week
- Project Angel Tree
- Sprayberry Christmas Party
- Field of Angels - Special Needs Baseball League
- Glen Haven Nursing Home
- Central Primary School
- Miracle League of Tuscaloosa - Baseball Buddies
- Autographs on the Quad
- Stars of the Future Reading Program

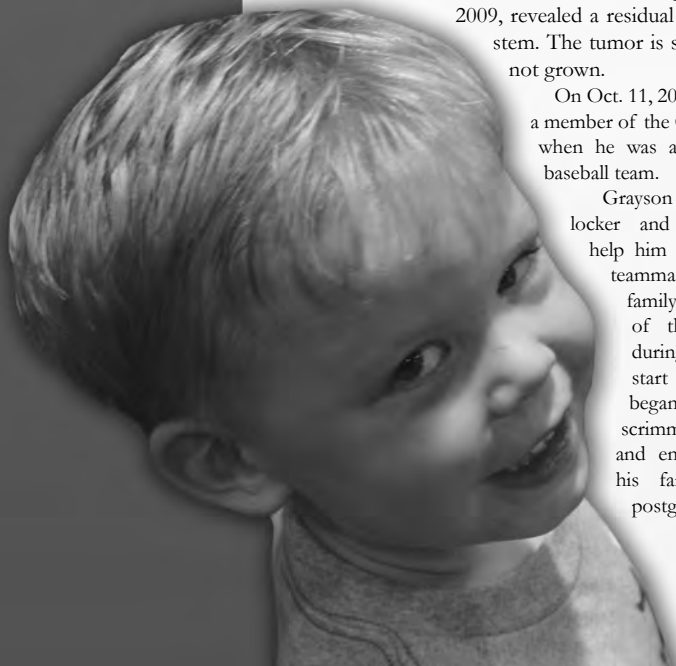

Friends of Jaclyn Foundation

Grayson Anderson was partnered with the Alabama baseball team through the Friends of Jaclyn Foundation, which helped make him a member of the Tide squad in 2010. The Friends of Jaclyn Foundation (FOJ) is a non-profit, charitable organization formed in 2005 to improve the quality of life for children with pediatric brain tumors and their families.

On Oct. 2, 2008, when he was only two years old, Grayson was diagnosed with a brain tumor. The tumor was surgically removed on Oct. 6, 2008, however a follow-up MRI on Feb. 10, 2009, revealed a residual tumor in his brain stem. The tumor is still present but has not grown.

On Oct. 11, 2010, Grayson became a member of the Crimson Tide family when he was adopted by the UA baseball team.

Grayson was given his own locker and baseball gear to help him fit in with his new teammates. The Anderson family participated in all of the team's activities during the day from start to finish. The day began with on-field, pre-scrimmage warm-ups and ended with him and his family enjoying the postgame meal.

Dr. Jeff Laubenthal (left) and Emeel Salem (right) won the H. Boyd McWhorter Southeastern Conference Male Scholar Athlete of the Year Award and a $10,000 post-graduate scholarship. It is the highest academic honor presented by the SEC office.

Alabama baseball has produced nine CoSIDA Academic All-Americans since 1972, including first-team honorees Jeff Laubenthal (1993), Lance Cormier (right) (2002) and Emeel Salem (2006 & 2007).

The Crimson Tide has produced 13 CoSIDA Academic All-District IV selections since 1993, including two-time honorees Lance Cormier (2001 & 2002), Beau Hearod (left) (2002 & 2003) and Emeel Salem (2006 & 2007).

Emeel Salem is the most decorated student in Alabama baseball history, receiving more than $25,000 in post-graduate scholarships. In addition to the SEC Male Scholar Athlete of the Year Award, Salem received the 2007 Lowe's Senior CLASS Award and was a two-time SEC Baseball Scholar Athlete of the Year (2006 & 2007).

SEWELL-THOMAS STADIUM

Sewell-Thomas Stadium, also known as “The Joe,” is home to Alabama baseball. The Crimson Tide opened its current home site in 1948, playing a double header against the Bradley Braves. Today, “The Joe” has a capacity of more than 6,500.

FOR THE PAST 16 SEASONS, ALABAMA HAS RANKED IN THE TOP 15 NATIONALLY IN AVERAGE ATTENDANCE.

SEWELL-THOMAS STADIUM has served as home for the Crimson Tide baseball team for more than six decades.

Sewell-Thomas Stadium located slightly off Paul W. Bryant Drive in the Alabama Athletics Complex, has played host to six NCAA Regionals, six SEC Playoff series and a pair of exhibition games with the New York Yankees in 1978 and 1984. The Crimson Tide used its home-field advantage to secure a berth in the College World Series in 1996, 1997 and 1999, winning 13 straight post-season home games in one of the most dominant runs in Crimson Tide baseball history.

Alabama has compiled a 1,151-488-2 (.701) all-time record at Sewell-Thomas Stadium since its move to the current site in 1948. The Tide posted an 18-13 (.580) record at home in 2012 and won three of their five Southeastern Conference series, with a sweep of No. 24 Auburn and two wins over Vanderbilt and Georgia.

Over the past 17 years, Alabama has been almost unbeatable at home, winning 67 of its 88 SEC series. Since 1995, Alabama has won 36 of 48 home series against SEC Eastern Division teams.

A series loss to No. 3 Florida at the end of the 2010 season snapped a 14-series win streak versus Eastern Division schools that dated back to 2005. After going 1-2 in series against SEC Western Division opponents in 2012, Alabama has won 27 of 40 home series, including 13 of its past 17 against West Division foes. Alabama enters the 2013 season having won 31 of its past 40 SEC home series.

In 2009, Alabama earned a home series win over top-ranked Georgia, adding to the Tide's success at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The Crimson Tide has won seven of its eight series against the No. 1 team in the land since 1985, with four of those series wins coming in Tuscaloosa. Alabama owns home series wins over Miami (Fla.) (1985), LSU (2007), Mississippi State (2006) and Georgia (2009) when those teams were ranked No. 1 in the country.

The Tide baseball team has been a success at the gate as well, drawing more than 2,500,000 fans since the first stadium expansion in 1991. Over the past 22 years, Alabama has attracted 2,545,241 fans in 706 all-time openings. The Tide ranked second nationally in attendance from 1999-2002 and set a school record with 211,331 fans during the 2000 season, when every home game was sold out.

Frank Thomas Field opened on March 26, 1948, as a 2,000-seat facility that attracted many overflow crowds in the 1950s and 1960s under Coach Tilden "Happy" Campbell and Coach Joe Sewell. The inaugural game was played on March 26, 1948, with the Crimson Tide beating the Bradley Braves 5-2 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Pitcher Clarence Flack delivered the first pitch at 2:02 p.m., on that afternoon in the Tide's new baseball home. Dick Dill recorded the first hit at Thomas Field and Jack Rutledge swatted the first home run. Flack was the winning pitcher that afternoon for the Tide. Marvin Blemker also pitched and earned what is known today as a save.

Since the inaugural game in 1948, Sewell-Thomas Stadium has seen plenty of changes. The stadium was renamed Sewell-Thomas Field in 1978, honoring former Alabama football and baseball standout and Major League Hall of Famer Joe Sewell. Alabama played the first night game in school history on March 14, 1981, with a 13-8 victory over Western Kentucky.

The ballpark has undergone two major renovations since it was erected in 1947, with the last coming in 1999. There are additional plans for future renovations on both the inside and outside of the stadium.

The original grandstand was completed in time for the 1991 season and the Tide's new ballpark held 2,700 fans. Wesley Construction of Talladega, Ala., built the new facility for $2.1 million and the completion of the permanent grandstand changed the name of the facility to Sewell-Thomas Stadium. In 1996, bleachers were added down the rightfield line to raise the stadium's capacity to more than 4,000 as the Crimson Tide hosted an NCAA Regional for the first time that year.

N.C. Morgan Construction of Tuscaloosa, was responsible for the most recent additions at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The $4-million expansion project, which was completed prior to the 2001 season, involved extending the grandstand down the rightfield line. The addition of 2,000 seats raised the stadium capacity to 6,571 seats. The bench seats that filled the upper level of the grandstand were moved to the new addition. Chairback seats, similar to those in the lower level, were installed in the upper level. The stadium also received three new ticket booths, five new concession stands and five new restrooms for men and women. Two "hawker" stands were added to allow for concession sales in the grandstand.

The players and coaches likewise benefited from the 2001 renovations. The Crimson Tide moved into its spacious clubhouse in 2001. The expansion also included three indoor batting cages and pitching machines, a meeting room, training room, equipment room and coaches offices. A new stadium entrance was created in the fall of 2005 and a new sound system from All Pro Sound was installed prior to the start of the season. The ballpark also received a general facelift with new paint, signs and handrails as part of this $175,000 project.

The most recent changes to Sewell-Thomas Stadium included a renovation to the players locker room, lounge and meeting room. The player facilities were completed in 2010, with the locker room getting maple wood lockers, a flat-screen television and a juice bar. The players lounge includes seating for the entire team, a pool table, additional televisions, and a large trophy case, that displays the team's 14 SEC Regular-Season and seven SEC Tournament trophies.

TEAM FACILITIES

LOUNGE

This recent addition is a favorite for the Alabama baseball team. This exceptional players lounge has enough room and seating for the entire team. This area comes equipped with three flatscreen televisions, two xbox 360s, two playstation 3s, two desktop computers, a large trophy case and a pool table.

MEETING ROOM

This state of the art player's locker room has 40 custom maple wood lockers to hold all of the latest NIKE apparel and baseball equipment. For entertainment, the locker room is equipped with two flatscreen televisions and a surround sound stereo system. For nutrition, there is a juice bar centrally located to get the players hydrated and fed through the course of a game or practice.

BASEBALL LOCKER ROOM

This room serves many purposes for the coaches and players. With a 65-inch flatscreen on the wall, the staff can break down opponent game film or break down the Tide's pitchers and hitters. This room is used for team meetings, team meals, and holds several different functions for the team throughout the course of a year.

Head Coach

Fourth Year

Mitch GASPARD

Louisiana-Lafayette, 1988

Mitch Gaspard returns for his fourth year as the head baseball coach at the Capstone. In his first two years as the head coach at Alabama, Gaspard led the Crimson Tide to back-to-back NCAA tournament appearances, as the 2011 NCAA Regional appearance in 2011 was the 22nd overall for Bama. The 2010 season for Gaspard ended with 42 victories and a NCAA Super Regional finish in his first season. Alabama finished 2010 with a 42-25 record, as Gaspard tied the school record for most wins by a first-year coach, while becoming the first Alabama coach to lead his team to an NCAA Regional championship in his first season.

Gaspard has developed his own philosophies on hitting, pitching, defense and ways to build a championship program and one cannot argue with his success. That success has come from hard work and high energy, both on and off the field.

"We want to be known as a blue-collar-type team," Gaspard said. "I believe in hard work. We want to work hard in the classroom, during practice and at the games. We want to out-work the teams we play. Our strength and conditioning program is built around mental toughness. When the game is on the line in the ninth inning, we want to be mentally stronger than our opponent. We want the toughness to show in all areas of our team."

Gaspard spent his first season as the head coach instilling that toughness for the Alabama squad. The toughness translated into opening the season with a 16-1 record to match the best 17-game start in school history. Gaspard led the Tide to 14 wins over top-25 competition, and the season wrapped up with the team winning 13 of its final 17 games.

Gaspard has assembled a high-energy coaching staff with a deep passion for the game and deep passion for the Crimson Tide program.

That energy and passion paid dividends in 2011, as the Tide fought its way to a 35-28 record and was ranked in the top-25 for three weeks, before playing in the championship game of the NCAA Tallahassee Regional against No. 6-ranked Florida State.

Assistant coaches Dax Norris and Andy Phillips both were all-American players for the Crimson Tide in the 1990s. Norris, the team's pitching coach and recruiting coordinator, played two years at Alabama in 1995-96. Phillips, who is the hitting and infield coach, was a four-year letterwinner for Alabama from 1996-99. After his All-American season in 1999, Phillips went on to play baseball professionally for 11 seasons, including five in Major League Baseball with the New York Yankees and Cincinnati Reds.

The energy level of the coaching staff has brought about some intense practices and tension-filled scrimmages, putting the players in game-like situations to see how they would respond.

"The one unique quality we have here is we have power but we also have athletes with speed," Gaspard said. "We've got to utilize that and have the aggressive style that's going to put pressure on the defense. We can do that with a little bit of a running game, hit-and-run, playing the short game some and also being able to hit the three-run homer. We can use all three packages on that."

Gaspard also wants to translate that mental toughness to the mound.

"The number one goal for us pitching-wise, is to command the strike zone. We've got to have that same aggressive style on the mound. Throw the fastball and put it where we need it and get tough mentally on the mound, the same as many of our position players."

Gaspard has learned from some of the best in the business. He comes from a coaching tree that is a virtual Hall of Fame. His 25-year coaching career has included playing and working for some of the best in the game, such as former LSU coach Skip Bertman, former Houston coach Bragg Stockton and Jim Wells, the former Northwestern State and former Alabama skipper.

After graduating from Port Arthur-Jefferson High School, where he led the team to a state title and earned all-state honors at shortstop, Gaspard played one season for Bertman at LSU. He transferred to Houston in 1986 and finished his career with the Cougars. Stockton offered Gaspard his first coaching job and he spent one year at Houston, before moving on to the University of Louisiana-Lafayette for the next three seasons. From 1989-92, the Ragin Cajuns won three straight conference titles and played in three NCAA Regionals.

During his days as Wells' assistant at NSU, the Demons won SLC titles in 1993 and 1994, winning in 1994 NCAA Regional play.

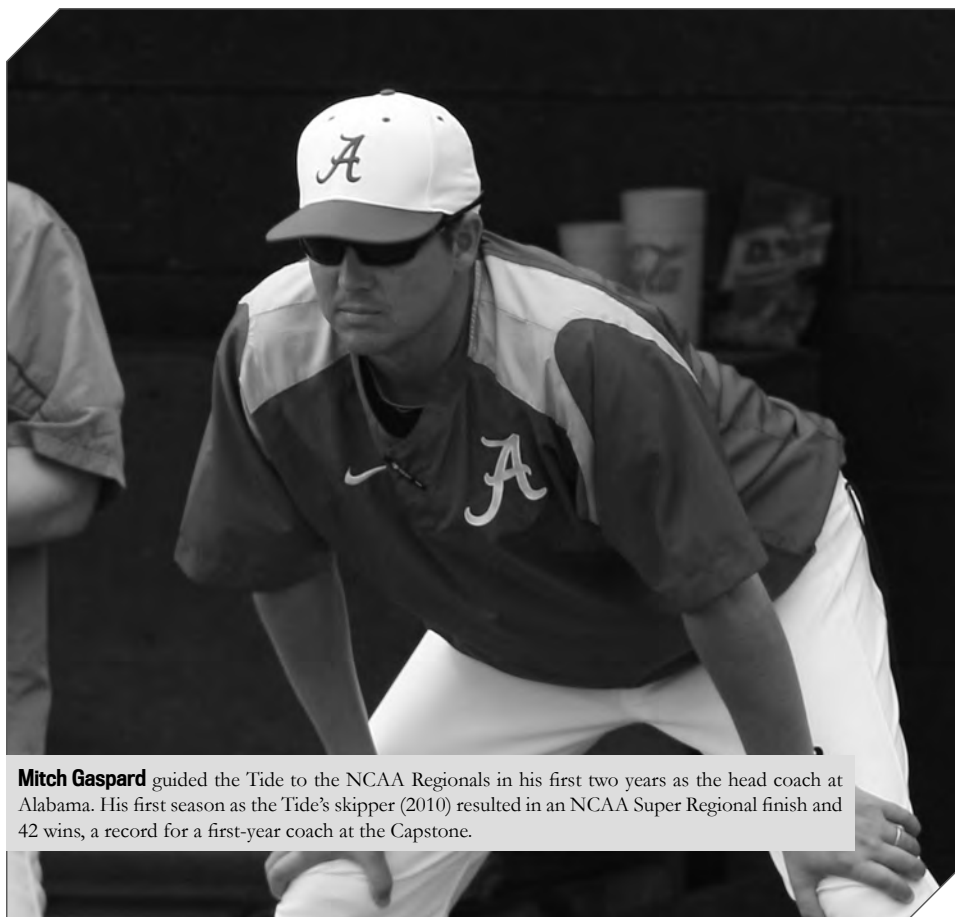

Gaspard was a pivotal figure as an ace recruiter and shrewd tactician in the remarkable revival of the Crimson Tide in the 1990s. Alabama had four SEC wins in 1994, but after Gaspard arrived the Tide won the SEC Tournament in 1995 and was one win away from the College World Series. By the time Gaspard returned to NSU, as the head coach, Alabama had earned six NCAA Regional appearances and three College World Series berths, including a national championship game loss to LSU in 1997.

In his first seven seasons as an assistant coach at Alabama, Gaspard helped mold the Tide into one of the nation's finest defensive units. Alabama set numerous school records and ranked among the nation's top 10 fielding teams twice in his tenure.

Gaspard was the chief recruiter for Alabama.

The Gaspard family, Brae, Mitch, Kim and Paeton.

Mitch Gaspard guided the Tide to the NCAA Regionals in his first two years as the head coach at Alabama. His first season as the Tide's skipper (2010) resulted in an NCAA Super Regional finish and 42 wins, a record for a first-year coach at the Capstone.

In each of his first five seasons, Alabama ranked among the nation's top-20 recruiting classes, including three straight top-10 recruiting classes, according to Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball.

"Mitch is a bright, young, energetic coach with a great passion for the game of baseball," Wells said. "He is an outstanding recruiter and teacher. He is a tireless worker and is one of the main reasons that we were so successful in the early stages of building our program at Northwestern State and Alabama."

Gaspard got his first head coaching job at Northwestern State in 2002 and compiled a 210-138 (.603) record in his six-year tenure. During that time, he led the Demons to a pair of Southland Conference championships, one SLC Tournament championship and a berth in the 2005 NCAA Baton Rouge Regional.

After the 2007 season, Gaspard decided to return to Alabama, where he would be reunited with Wells. After two years as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator, Gaspard helped the Tide regain its baseball momentum and ultimately was named the Tide's 30th head coach on Sept. 2, 2009, after Wells' retirement.

"It's the ultimate for me and I'm extremely excited and honored to take over the program and move forward and strengthen where we're at right now," Gaspard said. "I consider Alabama to be the greatest university and we play in the greatest conference against the top competition that there is in the country in college baseball."

CREDENTIALS

Gaspard has enjoyed success at every level of his baseball career as a player, assistant coach and head coach. The fourth-year Crimson Tide head coach has worked more than 1,700 games and his teams have compiled a 1,149-617-3 (.650) overall record, including a 308-225 (.578) record as a head coach. Those teams have won 10 conference championships and nine conference tournament titles, while playing in 16 NCAA Regionals and one NCAA Super Regional. Gaspard has played or coached on 17 teams that have won 40 or more games and three teams with 50 or more wins in a season.

THE COACHING TREE

Gaspard has been associated with some of college baseball's top coaches, including Skip Bertman, Bragg Stockton and Jim Wells. Bertman changed the face of baseball in the Southeastern Conference and led the Tigers to five national championships. Stockton had great influence on Gaspard's career and offered the young infielder his first coaching position. That first job has turned into more than 20 years of coaching excellence, with Gaspard demanding the best of his players on and off the field. Gaspard played a vital role in the revival of Alabama baseball in the mid-1990s. His keen eye for talent and his ability to teach the game of baseball helped send the Crimson Tide to the College World Series in 1996, 1997 and 1999.

THE PLAYER

Gaspard's four-year collegiate career at LSU and Houston saw his teams compile a 148-91 (.619) overall record, post two 40-win seasons and play in two NCAA regionals (1985 and 1987). He began his career at LSU in 1984 and 1985, earning one varsity letter on coach Skip Bertman's first LSU squad in 1984. The 1984 edition of the Tigers posted a 32-23 overall record. The 1985 team went 41-18 en route to the SEC Western Division championship and collected the school's first NCAA Regional appearance since 1975. He transferred to Houston following his sophomore season and played two years for the Cougars, lettering in 1986 and 1987. Gaspard played on coach Rolan Walton's final UH team in 1986, helping the Cougars post a 35-23 overall mark. In his final season as a UH player, Gaspard helped the Cougars to a 40-27 record and a berth in the NCAA Central Regional in Austin, Texas, under first-year head coach Dr. Bragg Stockton. The Cougars finished 1987 ranked 14th nationally.

HOUSTON (1988)

Gaspard's first coaching job came at Houston in 1988, under the legendary Dr. Bragg Stockton. He tutored with the Cougars infielders, as Houston posted a 33-22-3 overall record. Gaspard's first game as an assistant coach came on Feb. 13, 1988, against Texas Lutheran.

LOUISIANA LAFAYETTE (1989-92)

Gaspard spent four years at Louisiana Lafayette and the Ragin' Cajuns won four conference titles during his time on campus. ULL posted a 183-74 (.712) record during Gaspard's time under coach Mike Boulanger. In 1989, the Cajuns posted a 49-13 overall record and captured the American South Conference championship with an 11-4 record. The following year, ULL (47-18, 11-4) repeated as conference champs and advanced to the NCAA South I Regional in Baton Rouge, before losing to host LSU and Southern Mississippi in consecutive games. The Cajuns (49-20, 14-4) pulled off the three-peat in 1991, winning a third straight American South Conference championship. ULL beat Texas, Clemson and Mississippi State during the 1991 regular season. The Cajuns advanced to the NCAA Regionals for the second straight year, finishing runner-up to eventual national champion LSU at the NCAA South II Regional in Baton Rouge. After an opening-round loss to Texas A&M, ULL bounced back to beat Northwestern State, South Alabama and Texas A&M, before dropping the title game to the Tigers. In 1992, ULL (38-23) finished first in the Sun Belt Conference Western Division and played in the school's third straight NCAA Regional, losing two straight games to Long Beach State and VCU at the NCAA Central Regional in Austin, Texas.

NORTHWESTERN STATE (1993-94)

Gaspard hooked up with Jim Wells for the first time in 1993 with the two building a close friendship and working relationship over the next 15 years. In his two seasons as an assistant coach at NSU, the Demons went 85-29 (.737) and won two Southland Conference championships, one SLC Tournament championship and played in one NCAA Tournament. The 1993 NSU squad went 40-14 en route to the SLC title. The 1994 team won a school-record 45 games (45-15) and earned a berth in the NCAA Midwest II Regional in Stillwater, Okla. The 1994 Demons won eight games against top-25 clubs and set 19 school or SLC records, en route to an 18-6 conference mark.

ALABAMA (1995-2001)

Gaspard followed Wells to Alabama and played a prominent role in the revival of Crimson Tide baseball. During his seven years on the staff, the Crimson Tide posted a 320-127 (.732) record, played in six NCAA Regionals and made three College World Series appearances (1996, 1997 and 1999) in a four-year span. Alabama also won the 1996 SEC championship and captured four SEC Tournament titles (1995, 1996, 1997 and 1999). The Crimson Tide also was the No. 1 seed at the 1996 and 1997 CWS, the first team in history to be the top seed in consecutive World Series. Gaspard was responsible for bringing in some of the nation's top baseball players with five top-20 classes, including three straight top-10 rankings. One of his star pupils, Lance Cormier, earned All-America honors on the field and in the classroom and left the Capstone as the all-time leader in appearances, innings pitched, wins and strikeouts. Cormier was a fourth-round draft pick following his stellar collegiate career. Under Gaspard's watch, Alabama fielded some fine defensive units. Alabama led the SEC and ranked fourth nationally with a school-record .971 fielding mark in 1996. The following year, Alabama led the league and ranked ninth nationally with a .968 fielding mark in 1997. The 1997 squad was the most prolific offensive team in school history, leading the nation in total hits (860), runs (679), total bases (1,571) and slugging percentage (.622). The 1997 Tide also ranked second nationally in home runs (160), home runs per game (2.29) and wins (56), all school records.

NORTHWESTERN STATE (2002-07)

Gaspard was named the head coach at Northwestern State after the 2001 season, following in the footsteps of Jim Wells, Dave Van Horn and John Cohen – all who had left the Louisiana school for SEC head coaching jobs. His six-year record was 210-138 (.603), which included two Southland Conference championships, one SLC Tournament championship and one NCAA Regional appearance. Under Gaspard's guidance, the Demons had 28 All-Southland Conference selections, including 12 first-team picks. Gaspard had two players win major awards under his watch, including 2002 Southland Conference Pitcher of the Year O.J. King and 2004 CoSIDA Academic All-American Bobby Barbier. Gaspard led the Demons to SLC championships in 2002 and 2005. His first NSU squad captured the Southland Conference championship and finished with a 43-17 overall record, including a 14-10 mark in league play. The Demons ranked third nationally in fielding (.974), 11th in double plays (1.17), 12th in earned run average (3.54) and 18th in winning percentage (.717). That 2002 NSU team also set the school records with 612 hits and 53 sacrifice bunts. Despite a solid RPI and key wins over South Alabama and Minnesota, the Demons were left out of the 2002 NCAA Tournament. The 2003 team then posted a 35-22 record, including a 16-11 mark in SLC play, and ranked 12th nationally with 2.02 stolen bases per game. Tigger Lyles was 19th nationally with 0.59 thefts per game. The 2004 Demons posted a 33-23 record and 16-9 mark in conference play. NSU set a school record with 134 stolen bases to rank sixth nationally with 2.34 per game. Lyles and Josh Boop were among the nation's top stolen base artists, each with 0.52 stolen bases per game to rank 29th nationally. Gaspard led the 2005 NSU team to a 41-20 overall record and his first trip to the NCAA Regionals. The Demons posted a 22-5 conference record, setting the SLC record for wins en route to the league championship and a berth in the NCAA Baton Rouge Regional. The 2005 squad also set the school record with 19 saves. Daniel Descloids (10) and Blake Jones (8) accounted for 18 of the saves and both ranked among the nation's top-50 closers. The Demons compiled a 33-28 record in 2006 and set the school record with 522.1 innings pitched. Gaspard was 25-28 in his final season at NSU in 2007.

Including nine years as an assistant coach (1995-2001 & 2008-09) at UA, MITCH GASPARD (8) has been part of eight NCAA Regionals and three College World Series appearances (1996, 1997 and 1999) in 12 seasons on the Crimson Tide coaching staff.

ALABAMA (2008-09)

Gaspard came back to Alabama as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator on July 9, 2007. He spent two years as the Crimson Tide chief assistant coach and ace recruiter. Alabama went 72-49 over the those two seasons and played in the 2009 NCAA Clemson Regional. The 2009 squad was one of the most potent offensive squads in the nation, as the Tide ranked among the nation's top-25 teams in home runs per game (7th), slugging percentage (7th), home runs (8th), doubles (12th), runs scored (18th), runs per game (18th), batting average (22nd), doubles per game (23rd) and total hits (25th). The 2009 Alabama team featured SEC Player of the Year Kent Matthes and a school-record tying five first team All-SEC selections.

ALABAMA (2010-PRESENT)

Through three seasons as the head coach at Alabama, Gaspard has led the Crimson Tide to a 98-87 (.529) overall record, guiding the Tide to back-to-back NCAA Regional appearances to start his tenure at the Capstone. His 2010 squad was one win from earning the school's sixth College World Series appearance in 2010, winning the NCAA Atlanta Regional before falling to Clemson (2-1) in the Super Regional series. Gaspard's 42 wins in 2010 set a school record for wins by a first-year head coach, and became the first coach in school history to lead his squad to a NCAA Super Regional finish in his first year. Taylor Dugas earned 2010 first team All-America honors by Baseball America and four players earned All-SEC honors, as Dugas and shortstop Josh Rutledge were first team honorees. Following the 2011 season, four Tide players were drafted including Adam Morgan (3rd round), Dugas (8th round), Nathan Kilcrease (30th round) and Brock Bennett (33rd round). Dugas also was an ABCA Gold Glove outfielder and an All-SEC Defensive Team selection, helping the Tide post a school record .973 fielding percentage. Dugas also was a second team All-SEC honoree and an ABCA All-South Region selection. Dugas wrapped up his career at Alabama as the school's all-time hits leader (334), while posting the most doubles (67) and triples (18) in school history. Gaspard has inked one of the top recruiting classes in the country entering the 2013 season, as the crop of 11 players (10 freshmen and one junior college transfer) was rated as the fourth-best recruiting class by Baseball America and the 16th-best class by Collegiate Baseball.

Assistant Coach

Sixth Year

Dax
NORRIS

Alabama, 1996

COACHING STAFF

Dax Norris, one of the cornerstones of the University of Alabama's baseball revival in the 1990s under former head coach Jim Wells, enters his sixth season as assistant coach for the Crimson Tide. When Mitch Gaspard was named head coach in 2009, Norris was promoted to the recruiting coordinator for the program.

A hard-nosed player, Norris brings that same work ethic and intensity as the Crimson Tide's pitching coach and recruiting coordinator. After working as the hitting instructor from 2008-10, he took over the pitching staff and tutors the Alabama catchers, beginning with the 2011 season.

"With Dax being a player here, everybody remembers the type of player he was. He is the same way as a coach," said Gaspard. "He is a high energy guy that gives you great effort every day, and he bleeds crimson and white, and was an All-American here. His time as a player here and in professional baseball really brings a wealth of knowledge to our program."

With Norris and fellow Alabama All-American Andy Phillips spearheading much of the program's player recruitment, the Tide will enter the 2013 season with one of the top incoming classes in college baseball. The 11 signees that came to the Capstone for the upcoming season were rated fourth-best by Baseball America and No. 16 by Collegiate Baseball.

Norris enjoyed an 11-year professional baseball career with the Atlanta Braves and Houston Astros organizations, before joining the coaching ranks in 2007. During his time with the two organizations, he was associated with some of the best pitching minds in the game. With the Braves, Norris worked with former MLB pitching coach Leo Mazzone and all-star pitchers Greg Maddox, John Smoltz and Tom Glavine, then later with Houston's Andy Pettitte.

Following the 2011 campaign, pitchers Adam Morgan and Nathan Kilcrease and catcher Brock Bennett were selected in the 2011 MLB Draft. Morgan, a junior in 2011, was the first pitcher selected by the Philadelphia Phillies. Kilcrease was selected in the 30th round by the Oakland A's and Bennett was a 33rd round selection of the San Francisco Giants. After the 2012 season, reliever Ian Gardeck was selected in the 16th round by the Giants.

Norris helped centerfielder Taylor Dugas earn 2010 first team All-America honors by Baseball America after the sophomore hit .395 with 96 hits, 15 doubles, five triples, 59 walks and an on base percentage of .525. Dugas was seventh in the country in walks, 17th nationally in on-base percentage and 34th in hits. Junior shortstop Josh Rutledge finished sixth in the country with 107 total hits and joined Dugas as a first team All-SEC selection.

Norris' return to Tuscaloosa paid immediate dividends, as the Crimson Tide was one of the top offensive units in the country in 2009. That season the Tide ranked in the top-25 nationally in nine offensive categories, including home runs per game (7th, 1.84), slugging percentage (7th, .566), home runs (8th, 107), doubles (12th, 142), runs scored (18th, 509), runs per game (18th, 8.8), batting average (22nd, .330), doubles per game (23rd, 2.35) and total hits (25th, 689). Following the 2009 season, Norris, along with Gaspard, were named the SEC assistant coaches of the year by SEBaseball.com.

Norris tutored Kent Matthes, the 2009 SEC Player of the Year who led the nation with a school record 28 home runs. Matthes, a fourth-round draft pick by the Colorado Rockies, hit .358 with 28 home runs and 81 RBI in 2009. That season, Matthes ranked second nationally in home runs per game (0.50), third in slugging percentage (.858), sixth in RBI per game (1.45), 11th in RBI (81) and 12th in total bases (175). A finalist for several national awards, Matthes was named the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association District III Player of the Year.

In addition to Matthes, Norris also tutored second baseman Ross Wilson, shortstop Rutledge and third baseman Jake Smith during their 2009 first team All-SEC seasons. Outfielder Taylor Dugas was a Freshman All-American by Collegiate Baseball in addition to being selected to the All-SEC Freshman Team in 2009.

Norris earlier worked with 2008 All-SEC performers Alex Avila and Brandon May. Avila hit .343 with 17 home runs and 62 RBI as a junior and was selected in the fifth round of the 2008 MLB Draft, making his Major League debut with the Detroit Tigers on Aug. 6, 2009. He is the first Alabama player under Norris' tutelage to reach the big leagues. May, a 36th round draft pick in 2009 by the Chicago Cubs, hit .347 with 12 home runs and 69 RBI and led the SEC with 39 RBI in 30 league games. In 2008, May hit .365 with five home runs and 50 RBI. Vin DiFazio was a 12th-round draft pick by the Texas Rangers following the 2009 season.

Norris began his coaching career at Niceville (Fla.) High School, where he spent the 2007 season working under former Tide assistant coach Kevin Berry. Norris worked with the Niceville hitters and catchers and one of his star pupils was eventual Alabama pitcher Jimmy Nelson, who earned all-state honors in high school. Following his junior season at Alabama, Nelson was a second round draft pick by the Milwaukee Brewers in 2010.

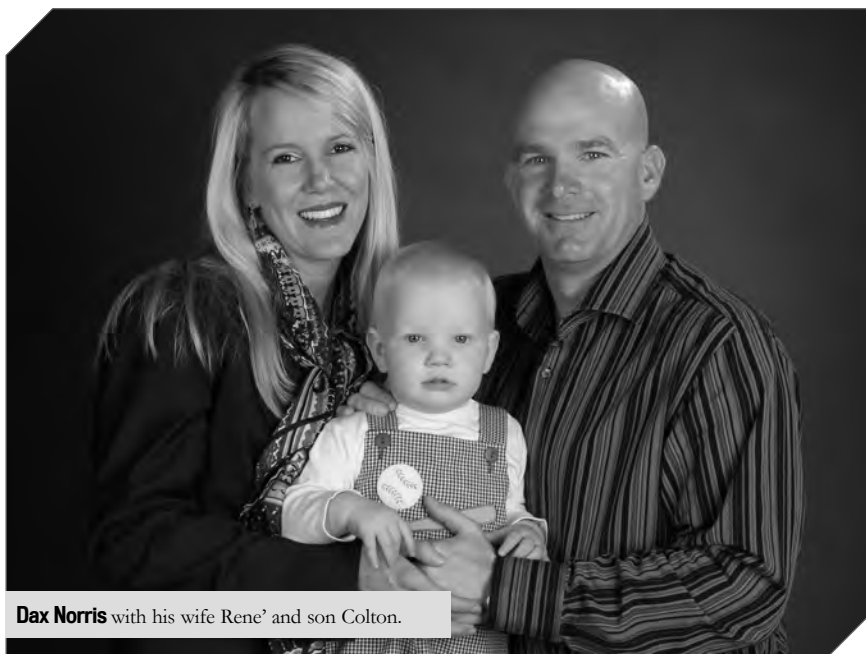

Norris played 11 seasons with the Atlanta Braves and Houston Astros organizations, reaching the triple-A level with both clubs and voted to the 2002 triple-A all-star team. He played in 846 career minor league games and batted .265 (771-for-2,914) with 73 home runs and 421 RBI. Norris had a career-high 122 hits and 72 RBI for the Greenville (S.C.) Braves (class AA, Southern League) in 2000 and smacked a career-high 15 home runs in Greenville in 1999. During the off-seasons, Norris played in the Venezuelan and Dominican winter leagues and also ran his own hitting school.

A 23rd-round draft pick by the Atlanta Braves in 1996, Norris had been a two-year starter for the Tide. He batted .283 (72-for-254) as a junior in 1995 with three home runs and 34 RBI in 63 starts. Norris was named to the 1995 NCAA East Regional all-tournament team, after batted .316 (6-for-19) with two runs scored and five RBI.

Norris was elected team captain on the Tide's 1996 SEC championship team that finished with a then-school record 50 wins. Alabama also captured the 1996 SEC Tournament championship at the Hoover Met and hosted an NCAA Regional for the first time in program history. Norris led the Tide to its first College World Series appearance since 1983 during his senior year. He batted .370 (105-for-284) with seven home runs and 49 RBI, en route to being named first team All-American by the Super Smith Team. He also was a first team All-SEC honoree and American Baseball Coaches Association All-South Region pick.

Following his professional career, Norris completed his bachelor's degree in human environmental science in 2007. Prior to playing at Alabama, Norris was a two-year starter at Central Alabama Community College in Alexander City, Ala.

A native of LaGrange, Ga., Norris was born Jan. 14, 1973. He is married to the former Rene' Simpkins. The couple welcomed their first child, son Colton Dax Norris, in October of 2010.

Assistant Coach

Third Year

Andy PHILLIPS

Alabama, 1999

Leading the Tide's hitting instruction the past two seasons, Phillips helped Taylor Dugas finish his career as the school's all-time leader in hits, doubles and triples. Dugas notched his 323rd career hit against Mississippi State on May 5, 2012, to break the record Phillips held since 1999. Phillips also mentored Ben Moore, who hit .342 en route to Freshman All-America honors by Baseball America and an SEC All-Freshman Team selection in 2012.

A four-year letter winner (1996-99) and first team All-American honoree for Alabama (1999), Phillips played for the New York Yankees (2004-07), New York Mets (2008), and Cincinnati Reds (2008) during his MLB career. Before returning to the Capstone in 2011, Phillips played two years in the Nippon Professional League (Japan) for the Hiroshima Toyo Carp (2009) and the Tohoku Rakuten Golden Eagles (2010).

"Coaching always intrigued me, but only in an ideal situation, and that is here at Alabama," said Phillips. "I never wanted to get into coaching just to say I was a coach. There are a lot of things that I have aspired to do, but I've always had a passion for teaching and soaking in information. I always said that if I had the opportunity to coach here, I would do it, but it would only be here."

Following a stellar playing career at Alabama, Phillips was a seventh-round draft pick by the Yankees in 1999. He made his Major League debut on Sept. 14, 2004, and in his first at-bat, he belted a home run over the Green Monster in Fenway Park on the first pitch he saw from Terry Adams. Phillips is one of seven players to homer in his first at-bat as a Yankee and became the 21st player in MLB history to hit a home run on the first pitch of his career.

Phillips received the Yankees' Kevin Long "Minor-League Player of the Year" Award following a 2004 season where he led all Yankees minor leaguers in batting average (.321), RBI (101) and ranked second in home runs (30). He was voted the Most Valuable Player of the International League All-Star Game, after hitting a 10th-inning walk-off home run. Phillips later earned the James P. Dawson Award as the Yankees' most outstanding Yankees rookie during the 2005 spring training.

In 2006, Phillips saw action in 110 games in the Yankees pinstripes, posting a .240 batting average with seven home runs, 11 doubles and 29 RBI, as the Yankees won the American League East Division title with an MLB-best 97-65 record. Phillips made one plate appearance in the American League Divisional Series (ALDS) against the Detroit Tigers. After returning to the minors for the start of the 2007 season, Phillips rejoined the Yankees on June 19, 2007, and in 61 games posted a career-high .292 batting average. The season was cut short when he suffered a broken wrist after being hit by a pitch.

His MLB career continued in 2008 as a member of the Cincinnati Reds, seeing action in 52 games with 73 at-bats. After hitting .233, Phillips was designated for assignment by the Reds and was picked up by the New York Mets, playing four games. He was designated for assignment by the Mets on July 1, 2008, and reclaimed by the Reds off waivers on July 3 but never returned to the major leagues.

On Dec. 22, 2008, Phillips was signed to a minor league contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates and was invited to Spring Training as a "non-roster invitee." In April of 2009, he was traded to the Chicago White Sox, and assigned to the Charlotte Knights of the International League. On June 23, 2009, Phillips signed with the Hiroshima Toyo Carp of Nippon Professional Baseball, and after one season with the Carp, he played his final professional season with the Tohoku Rakuten Golden Eagles in 2010.

"Andy was a phenomenal player here, and I couldn't be happier with his decision to return to Alabama," said Alabama head baseball coach Mitch Gaspard. "He is the most well-rounded person I have ever coached and been around, and we are very fortunate to have him join our coaching staff."

In April of 2009, he was traded to the Chicago White Sox, and assigned to the Charlotte Knights of the International League. On June 23, 2009, Phillips signed with the Hiroshima Toyo Carp of Nippon Professional Baseball, and after one season with the Carp, he played his final professional season with the Tohoku Rakuten Golden Eagles in 2010.

In his four seasons at Alabama, Phillips posted a .356 career batting average with 61 home runs, 224 RBIs and 322 hits. He ended his career as the all-time leader in home runs, RBIs and hits, and currently holds the school records in home runs and total bases (590). In the history of the baseball program at Alabama, Phillips is one of three players with 50 home runs and 200 RBI, one of four players with 300 hits, and is the only player in school history with 50 home runs, 200 RBI and 300 hits.

The Tide advanced to the NCAA Tournament all four years that Phillips wore the Alabama uniform, which included three College World Series appearances. He is one of two Tide players (Manny Torres) to make three CWS appearances. As a freshman in 1996, Phillips was part of a 50-19 squad that captured the SEC regular-season and tournament titles and advanced to the CWS, marking the third trip in school history and the first for UA since the 1983 season.

Phillips hit .366 in 1997 with 15 home runs and 64 RBI to help the Tide post a 56-14 overall record, an SEC regular season championship, and a runner-up finish in the CWS, falling to LSU (13-6) in the national championship game. As a junior, Phillips hit .351 with 21 home runs and a career-high 81 RBI, as the Tide posted a 46-18 record after falling to Long Beach State (5-3) in the final game of the NCAA West Regional.

As a senior, Phillips nearly hit .400 (.398), with 22 home runs, 22 doubles, 66 RBI and a .781 slugging percentage. He led the Crimson Tide to a SEC Tournament title in 1999, and after Alabama won the NCAA Regional and Super Regional, the Tide finished third in the College World Series.

After his senior campaign, Phillips was a first team All-America selection by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA) and Collegiate Baseball Insider. He garnered third team All-America honors by the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA), Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball. Phillips completed his bachelor's degree in sports fitness management from the University of Alabama in 1999.

George Andrew Phillips, born April 6, 1977, in Tuscaloosa, Ala., was raised in Demopolis, Ala., where he played baseball for the Demopolis Academy Generals. Prior to playing for the Tide from 1996-99, Phillips was a 41st-round selection out of high school by the Milwaukee Brewers as a shortstop in 1995.

In 2004, he married Bethany Phillips and the couple has a daughter named Isaiah.

Vol. Assistant Coach

Fourth Year

Bobby BARBIER

Northwestern State, 2006

to help the program improve. He will be a tremendous baseball coach in the future, and we are fortunate to have him with us."

Barbier wrapped up a remarkable four-year playing career in 2006 at Northwestern State, where he earned two All-Southland Conference honors and an Academic All-America award under then-head coach Mitch Gaspard.

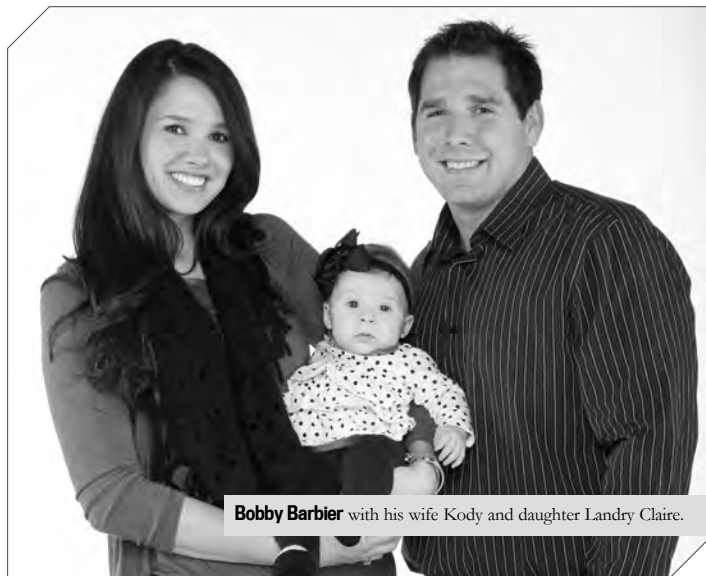

Barbier completed his career being listed in the school's top 10 in eight offensive categories. In 2004, he became the eighth student-athlete in NSU history to be named an Academic All-American. He hit .293 that season with a team-high nine home runs.

Bobby Barbier joined the Crimson Tide staff in 2010 after spending two years as an assistant coach at Northwestern (La.) State (2008-09). In his role with the Tide, Barbier is the team's third base coach, coordinates the running game, works with the outfielders and oversees the Alabama Baseball Camps. He also assists in the areas of hitting, defense and pitching for the program.

"Bobby is one of the brightest young coaches out there," head baseball coach Mitch Gaspard said. "He played for me at Northwestern State and truly understands how our program works. He does a great job as our third base coach and does a number of other things

The 28-year old Barbier played high school ball at Archbishop Shaw in New Orleans, earning all-state, all-district and all-metro honors. He also was part of two American Legion state championship teams.

Barbier earned his bachelor of science degree from Northwestern State in health and human performance in December of 2006. He is married to Kody (Sprout) Barbier, and the couple recently welcomed their first child, Landry Claire, in August of 2012.

Dir. of Baseball Ops.

Second Year

Ken BROWN

Alabama, 2005

but also from an administrative standpoint."

In his most recent position, Brown was the area scout for the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim from November of 2010 through August of 2011. His scouting area for the Angels included Alabama, Mississippi, West Tennessee and Arkansas. He also assisted with front office baseball operations, gaining experience in Major League administration areas including; waivers, dates and trades, serving as a player development intern, and assisting with day-to-day operations of a Major League facility.

From Feb. 2010 through Nov. 2010, Brown worked in the Texas Rangers organization, helping with amateur and professional scouting. He also assisted with 40-man roster management, MLB advanced scoring reports and the arbitration processes.

Brown earlier completed the Washington Nationals Baseball Operations Diversity Internship Program (2009) and a season-long internship in the minor league operations department with the New York Mets (2009). In his role with the Mets, he assisted in all facets of player development and assisted with international operations.

Brown earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Alabama in human environmental sciences in 2005. He was a two-time selection to the SEC Academic Honor Roll and received UA's Distinguished Minority Student-Athlete Award in 2005. Brown continued his education at Alabama, completing a master's degree in consumer management in 2008.

University of Alabama head baseball coach Mitch Gaspard added Ken Brown as the director of baseball operations for the Crimson Tide in September of 2011. A member of the Alabama baseball team in 2005 and 2006, Brown returned to Tuscaloosa after spending three seasons (2009-11) in scouting and player development in Major League Baseball.

"With the background and experience that Ken was able to gather in Major League Baseball, both in the front office and as an area scout, he brings a lot to the table for us," Gaspard said. "This is a real opportunity for us to advance our position administratively. Ken is very intelligent and will help our baseball program grow, not only on the field

Athletic Trainer

Sixth Year

Joe HOFFER

College of St. Scholastica, 2003

Joe Hoffer is in his sixth season as an athletic trainer at the University of Alabama, all with the Crimson Tide baseball team. During the summer of 2010, Hoffer's involvement with USA Baseball continued, as he worked as the head athletic trainer for the under-18 squad that advanced to the World Championships in Thunder Bay, Canada.

Hoffer joined the Tide staff following a two-year stint at the University of Wisconsin-Stout and four years of experience with USA Baseball. He worked the 2006 and 2007 seasons at UW-Stout in Menomonie, Wis., where he served as the athletic trainer and pitching coach for the Division III school.

He also has been involved with USA Baseball during his athletic career, serving as the Junior Olympic Athletic Training site coordinator in Peoria, Ariz., in 2004, 2005 and 2007. In 2006, Hoffer was the head athletic trainer for USA Baseball's 16-and-under team that captured the gold medal at the Pan American Games in Barquisimeto, Venezuela.

Hoffer earned his master's of science degree in sports administration and health promotion from Northwestern (La.) State University in 2005. During his two years at NSU, Hoffer worked with football, track and field and baseball. He was the athletic trainer for the Demons baseball team that won the 2005 Southland Conference Championship under then-head coach Mitch Gaspard and earned an at-large bid to the NCAA Regional in Baton Rouge, La.

Hoffer earned his bachelor's of arts degree in exercise physiology with an emphasis in athletic training from the College of St. Scholastica in Duluth, Minn., in 2003. He was a four-year letterman on the men's tennis team that advanced to the NCAA Regional Finals all four years (2000-03) and won the 2001 Regional team title. Hoffer also worked as a student athletic trainer for the Division III institution.

A native of Minneapolis, Minn., Hoffer attended The Academy of Holy Angels in Richfield, Minn. He is married to the former Steph Miettunen, who holds a doctoral degree in pharmacy from the University of Minnesota and is a pharmacist in Tuscaloosa. The couple was married in 2008 and welcomed their first child, daughter Charleigh, on July 3, 2012.

2012 SEASON REVIEW

- Alabama finished the season with a 21-34 overall record and 9-21 record in Southeastern Conference play, finishing sixth in the Western Division and 11th overall in the SEC.
- The Crimson Tide posted an 18-13 record at Sewell-Thomas Stadium, while finishing 3-21 in games away from home (3-19 road, 0-2 neutral).
- Alabama was 9-6 against SEC teams at home, but did not win a road game against SEC competition (0-15).
- UA won three series during SEC play, posting a sweep of No. 23 Auburn and series wins over Vanderbilt and Georgia.
- The Tide finished the season with a national RPI of 128, according to the NCAA national rankings, and a 126 RPI by BoydsWorld.com.
- Alabama posted a .259 team batting average, with 69 doubles, 15 triples, and 20 home runs. UA scored 251 runs for the season.
- The Tide's longest winning streak of the season was four games, which they did twice, while the longest losing streak for the year was five games, which was also done twice.

INDIVIDUAL SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

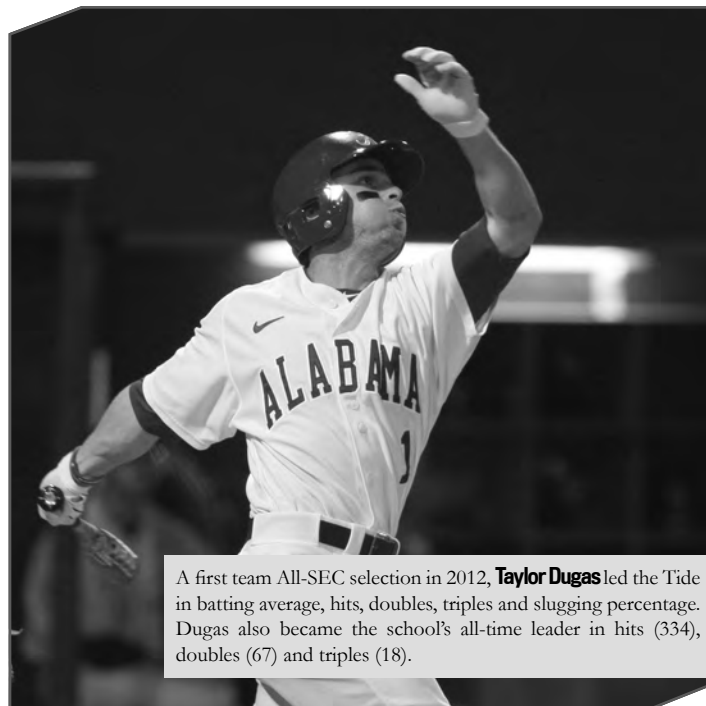

- Taylor Dugas jumped Ben Moore for the team batting title, posting a .343 average his senior season. Dugas finished 10th in the SEC in batting average.
- Dugas led the Tide in average, runs (41), hits (71), doubles (12), triples (7), walks (24), hit by pitches (18) and slugging percentage (.498).
- Ben Moore was second on the team with a .342 average, good for 11th in the SEC. Moore hit .345 during conference games, to rank third in the SEC.
- Moore was second on the team with 68 hits and 10 doubles, and was third on the squad with 31 runs batted in. He also led the team with 10 stolen bases.
- Jared Reaves, who hit .316 for the season, led the team with 34 RBI, including a team-best 21 during SEC play.
- Reaves and Brett Booth were tied for the team lead with four home runs. Booth was second on the squad with 32 RBI.
- James Tullidge started the final 29 games of the season and finished third on the team with a .337 average. He also led the team with a .454 on-base percentage and a .352 batting average during the conference season.

PITCHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Freshman right-handed pitcher Jake Hubbard led the team with 29 appearances and a 3.10 earned run average.
- Hubbard posted a 3-2 record, three saves, and 33 strikeouts in 40.2 innings, while holding opponents to a team-best .237 batting average.
- Freshman left-hander Taylor Guilbeau paced the team with four wins, posting a 4-2 record in 16 appearances with eight starts.
- Guilbeau became the first freshman to start the season opener for Alabama since 1973, when freshmen first were allowed to play on the varsity team.
- Charley Sullivan led the team with 11 starts on the mound. Sullivan had a 2-3 record in 14 appearances, while posting a 5.09 ERA with 34 strikeouts in 63.2 innings pitched.
- Freshman lefty Jon Keller (2-5) led the team with 67.1 innings pitched and was second on the club with 20 appearances and third with nine starts.
- Keller became the first freshman since Wade LeBlanc (112.2 IP) in 2004 to lead the team in innings pitched.
- Spencer Turnbull turned in the pitching performance of the season, when he no-hit No. 4 South Carolina through seven innings. The game was suspended after lightning halted play in the top of the eighth inning. UA lost the game on a lead off solo home run in the SC eighth, off relief pitcher Jon Keller.
- Turnbull finished the season with a 2-6 record and a 5.60 ERA. He made 15 appearances with 10 as a starter.
- Freshman lefty Justin Kamplain led the Crimson Tide with 46 strikeouts. Kamplain had a 1-4 record with a 3.71 ERA in 63.0 innings. He was second on the team in ERA and third in innings pitched.

1977 MLB HALL OF FAME MEMBER - JOE SEWELL

Joe Sewell had a knack for this “funny game.”

That knack has made him the only player in Crimson Tide baseball annals to be inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in the quaint little town of Cooperstown, N.Y.

The only other Crimson Tider in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum is New York Yankees legendary broadcaster Mel Allen, who along with Florida alum Red Barber earned induction in 1978 as the inaugural winners of the Ford C. Frick Award.

Inducted in the Hall of Fame in 1977, Sewell’s career spanned 14 seasons with the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees.

From the moment he left the Capstone as student body president in 1919, Sewell’s major league career was the stuff dreams are made of. After leading the Crimson Tide to the 1919 Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship, Sewell was selected by the Indians and signed with the New Orleans team in the Southern Association.

The Titus, Ala., native made his Major League debut with the Indians in the heat of a 1920 pennant drive, after their everyday shortstop was killed after being hit with a submarine pitch. Sewell rose to the challenge and batted .329 over the final 22 games of the season to help the Indians clinch the American League pennant.

Alongside future Hall of Famers Stanley Coveleski, Tris Speaker and Bill Wambagass, Sewell and the Indians disposed of the Brooklyn Robins in seven games, taking the 1920 series five games to two. Sewell batted only .174 (4-for-23) in his first trip to the fall classic, but was solid in the field in all seven games, helping the Indians lay claim to the World Series title.

He played 11 years for the Indians before joining the New York Yankees roster for the final three years of his outstanding Major League career.

Sewell once again tasted greatness with Yankees in 1932, when New York beat the Chicago Cubs in the most talked about World Series in history. The Yankees won 107 games in 1932 and swept the Cubs in the best-of-seven fall classic. The Yankees took the first two games at Yankee Stadium (12-6 and 5-2) before moving to Wrigley Field for games three and four.

In game three, Babe Ruth, a teammate and close friend of Sewell, made baseball history. Ruth’s fifth inning at-bat off Chicago hurler Charley Root is still the most talked about home run in baseball history.

Ruth earlier had slugged a three-run home run in the first inning and legend has it that, after taking two called strikes in his third at-bat, the Sultan of Swat pointed to center field before he slammed a two-run home run over the head of Johnny Moore. It has become the most debated home run in the history of the fall classic.

The Yankees won the game 7-5 and then closed out the Cubs the following day (13-6) to win the 1932 World Championship. In a lineup filled with Hall of Famers from Frank Crosetti to Bill Dickey to Lou Gehrig to Ruth, Sewell batted .333 (5-for-15) in the four games with six runs scored and two RBI. He was on base when Ruth slugged his first-inning home run in game three and witnessed the famed “called shot” from the Yankees dugout.

Sewell also was a close friend and roommate with Yankee legend Lou Gehrig, whose career tragically was cut short due to ALS in the 1930s.

In 14 Major League seasons, Sewell batted .312 (2,226-of-7,132) with 1,051 career RBI. He played in nearly 2,000 career games and logged over 7,000 at-bats for the Indians and Yankees. He also had more than 2,000 hits, 1,000 runs scored and 1,000 RBI.

Sewell hit .300 or better in 10 of his 14 seasons in the big leagues. His best season was 1923 when he batted .353 (195-for-553) with the Indians. He collected a career-high 204 hits with the Indians in 1925, when he posted a .336 (204-for-608) batting average.

An outstanding fielder, Sewell led the American League in putouts and assists four times in his career and led the league in fielding percentage three times.

A “singles hitter” overshadowed by some of the game’s greatest sluggers, Sewell set five major league records that continue to pass the test of time: fewest strikeouts in a season (3, two times); consecutive games without a strikeout (115); consecutive at-bats without a strikeout (437); most seasons of 500 or more at-bats with fewer than four strikeouts (4); and fewest career strikeouts (114).

Throughout his sparkling 14-year career at the pinnacle of the baseball profession, Sewell turned in numbers that simply are amazing to the average baseball fan. For instance, his 114 career strikeouts in more than 7,000 career at-bats averages out to one strikeout for every 63 at-bats, and one strikeout in every 16 games played.

And still years later, in 1964 at age 66, Sewell, a Tuscaloosa resident and businessman since his college days, took over the Crimson Tide’s baseball program as head coach. In his seven-year tenure, Alabama compiled a 114-99 (.535) record, which included winning the 1968 SEC Championship and a trip to the NCAA District III Playoffs in North Carolina.

Sewell was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in 1977, along with Ernie Banks, Martin Dihigo, Pop Llyod, Al Lopez and Amos Rusie. He is one of 11 Alabama natives to be enshrined in Cooperstown, joining fellow legends Hank Aaron (Mobile), Monte Irvin (Columbia), Heinie Manush (Tuscumbia), Willie Mays (Westfield), Willie McCovery (Mobile), Satchel Paige (Mobile), Ozzie Smith (Mobile), Don Sutton (Clio), Billy Williams (Whistler) and Early Wynn (Hartford).

Sewell died on March 6, 1990, in Mobile, Ala., after a lengthy illness. At the time of his death he was the oldest living baseball Hall of Famer at 91 years of age.

FORD C. FRICK AWARD - MEL ALLEN

Mel Allen is as much a part of the national pastime as the squeeze play, hot dogs, and pennants flapping in the breeze. And he never played in the big leagues. Instead he broadcasted the game, and that allowed the fans to play the games over and over in their minds. His voice is the one that millions of fans associate with the game of baseball.

Born Melvin Allen Israel, the son of a traveling textile representative in Birmingham, and raised all over Alabama, he was a spindly student manager for the Crimson Tide football and baseball teams when he received his chance to announce games. Allen's first assignment behind the microphone was doing play-by-play of a football game between Tulane and Alabama, his beloved alma mater.

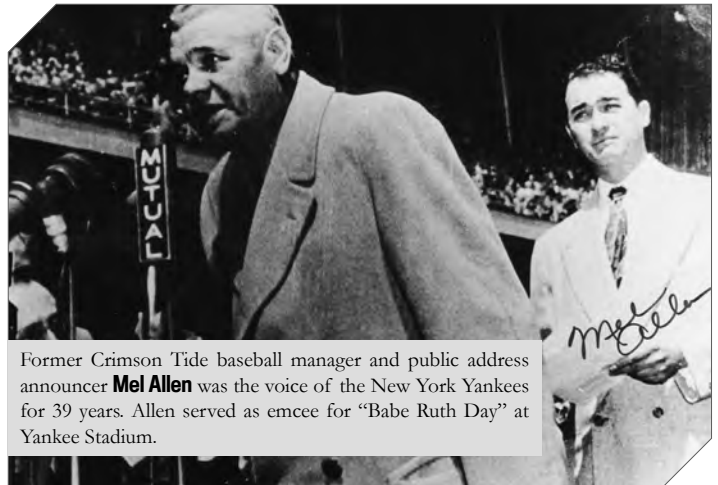

While a student at Alabama, Allen sold shoes, coached speech and debate, and ultimately earned his law degree before winning an audition to announce in New York for CBS Radio. After the audition with CBS in 1936, Allen broadcast his first World Series for the network in 1938. He joined the Yankees the following year and stayed for 25 more, delighting millions of baseball fans with his warm sign-on – “Hello, everybody!” – and his trademark phrases “How about that!” and “Going, going, gone!”

Allen was the voice of the New York Yankees from 1939 to 1964, covering the team that aroused more passion than any other in baseball. With his vivid phrases and pleasing Alabama drawl, he called many of the great events in the game: the Babe's good-bye, Larsen's perfect game in the 1956 World Series, Mantle's heroics, Maris' record-shattering summer (1961), Casey's barbs and Yogi's convoluted pronouncements.

“Mel Allen meant as much to Yankee tradition as legends like Ruth, Gehrig, DiMaggio and Mantle,” Yankees owner George Steinbrenner said. “He was the voice of the Yankees.”

In an era before television, millions of radio listeners around the nation envisioned the game through the descriptions of this thoughtful and articulate Alabamian who prided himself on being both a reporter and storyteller.

Allen later moved to the Milwaukee Braves in 1965, went on to broadcast for the Cleveland Indians and handled a variety of assignments for NBC. He returned as the voice of the New York Yankees in 1970s and began a 19-year association with This Week in Baseball as host of the popular television program.

Former Crimson Tide baseball manager and public address announcer Mel Allen was the voice of the New York Yankees for 39 years. Allen served as emcee for “Babe Ruth Day” at Yankee Stadium.

In his 58 years of sports broadcasting, Allen did it all. He called thousands of Yankees games, 24 Major League Baseball World Series, 20 All-Star Games, 14 Rose Bowls, five Orange Bowls, two Sugar Bowls, and more than 2,000 newsreels.

A winner of numerous industry, listener and viewer awards, Allen is a member of National Baseball Hall of Fame (as the first Ford C. Frick winner in 1978), National (USA) Sportswriters and Broadcasters Hall of Fame (1972), the American Sportscasters Association Hall of Fame (1985), the Radio Hall of Fame (1988), the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, the University of Alabama Communication Hall of Fame (1995) and was enshrined to Monument Park at Yankee Stadium (July 25, 1999).

Decades ago, Allen sat next to a weakened Lou Gehrig in the dugout before a game. Gehrig soon would die from the disease that forced his emotional, early farewell from the game.

“Mel, sometimes your descriptions of the game are the only thing that keeps me going,” Gehrig said.

Allen went into the tunnel and cried like a baby.

How about that?

1983 GOLDEN SPIKES AWARD/BASEBALL AMERICA PLAYER OF THE YEAR - DAVID MAGADAN

Never before or since has an Alabama baseball player had a season at the plate like David Magadan did in 1983.

The Alabama junior shattered school and Southeastern Conference records that still stand today in becoming the 1983 Golden Spikes Award winner, presented annually by the United States Baseball Federation.

Magadan, who concluded the 1983 season with six school career records (at-bats, runs, hits, RBI, doubles, total bases and batting average), was a major contributor in Alabama's national runner-up spot to Texas at the College World Series. He paced the Crimson Tide to winning the NCAA South Regional and Southeastern Conference titles en route to a 46-11 record, one the most successful campaigns in school history.

After batting an incredible nation-leading .525 (114-for-217) as a junior, Magadan was voted the 1983 College "Player of the Year" by Baseball America and he also led the team in hits (114), doubles (31), total bases (180) and slugging percentage (.829) during his record-setting campaign.

Magadan was a consensus first team All-America selection by the American Baseball Coaches Association, the Sporting News, Baseball America and the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association during the 1983 season and was a three-time All-SEC selection at the Capstone.

Two years earlier, Madagen hit safely in his initial 27 games as a freshman in 1981 and as a junior, went an incredible 10-for-11 (.909) at the 1983 SEC Tournament in Starkville, Miss., which included a five-hit game (2 doubles, 2 HRs) against Florida, en route to being named the Most Valuable Player of the tournament. He also set the CWS record by hitting safely in his first eight trips to the plate and wound up batting .550 (11-for-20) at Omaha in five games.

After his freshman season at Alabama, Magadan led his American Legion team to the 1981 American Legion World Series title and was named the "Sports Club Amateur of the Year" when Tampa Post 248 won the national title. Magadan also is recognized in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum for his amateur accomplishments in 1981.

The Tampa native played in 162 games during his Alabama career and batted .439 (268-for-610) with 64 doubles, 14 home runs and 188 RBI. His .439 batting average still ranks among the leaders in Division I baseball and remains atop the SEC record books as the highest career average in league history.

Magadan still holds Alabama records for single-season batting average (.525, 1983), career batting average (.439, 1981-83), single-season hits (114, 1983), single season doubles (31, 1983) and single-season RBI (95, 1983). He also set the Alabama standards for highest batting average for a freshman (.399, 1981) and junior (.525, 1983) and most RBI (95, 1983) by a junior and shares the single-game record with five hits, a feat he accomplished an Alabama record three times against Alabama Christian (April 16, 1983), Florida (May 13, 1983) and Arizona State (June 4, 1983).

First drafted by the Boston Red Sox out of Tampa's Jesuit High School, Magadan then was one of six Alabama players selected in the 1983 MLB Draft. He signed with the New York Mets and was assigned to the Columbia, S.C. Mets in the class A South Atlantic League in his first pro ball assignment. In that first summer, Magadan batted .336 with three home runs and 32 RBI.

Magadan made his Major League debut for the Mets against the Chicago Cubs on Sept. 17, 1986, as the starting first baseman at Shea Stadium. In the game, he went 3-for-4 with two RBI, including the game-winner in the eighth inning that clinched the National League Eastern Division title for the eventual world champions.

In 1990, Magadan finished third in the National League batting race with a career-best .328 (148-for-451) average. He played 15 years in the Major Leagues before retiring from the game after the 2000 season. In those 15 seasons, Magadan hit .289 (1,165-for-4,031) with 41 home runs and 483 RBI in 1,491 career big-league games.

After his playing days, Magadan was named the roving minor league hitting instructor by the San Diego Padres, before being promoted as the big-league hitting coach prior to the 2003 season. After four seasons with the Padres, Magadan was named the hitting coach for the Boston Red Sox in 2007, a position he currently holds.

In June of 2010, Magadan joined former Alabama All-American and head coach Joe Sewell as the only Tide players to be inducted into the College Baseball Hall of Fame.

1999 DICK HOWSER TROPHY FINALIST - ANDY PHILLIPS

Andy Phillips is one of the most decorated players in the history of Alabama baseball.

A member of coach Jim Wells' first signing class, Phillips rewrote the Alabama record books and in the process took the Crimson Tide baseball program to new heights with three trips to the College World Series in his four-year career.

That impact was not limited to the Crimson Tide baseball family, as his talents were recognized nationally by writers, broadcasters and professional scouts.

A consensus All-America selection as a senior, Phillips was named the 1999 National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association District III Player of the Year and finished runner up to Baylor's Jason Jennings for the 1999 Dick Howser Trophy, presented by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association to the best player in college baseball.

Florida State's Marshall McDougal, Cal State Fullerton's Spencer Oborn and Rice's Mario Ramos also were finalists for the Howser Trophy, named for the former Florida State infielder and Kansas City Royals manager.

Phillips also was named first team All-American by the NCBWA as well as being a member of the 1999 NCBWA Super All-American squad.

In addition to the NCBWA honors, Phillips was named first team All-American by College Baseball Insider and was a third team All-America selection by Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball and the American Baseball Coaches Association.

The Demopolis, Ala., native wrapped up his Alabama career as the school record-holder in eight career statistical categories, including most games played (244), games started (224), at-bats (905), runs scored (222), total hits (322), home runs (61), RBI (224) and total bases (590). He also ranked second in career doubles (63) and triples (11), and was third in assists (537) and 10th in walks (86).

As a senior in 1999, Phillips set the standard of excellence for Crimson Tide baseball. He played in 64 games and batted .398 (103-for-259) with 22 home runs and 66 RBI. He added 71 runs scored, 22 doubles, 30 walks and 16 stolen bases for an Alabama team that captured the SEC Tournament Championship and finished third at the College World Series.

Phillips also set Alabama single-season records for total bases (203) and set records for most home runs (22) and RBI (66) by a shortstop at Alabama.

The former Tide shortstop also set the SEC record with a 36-game hitting streak during his final season at Alabama, breaking the old standard of 33 games set by LSU second baseman Todd Walker (1993). During his record-setting hitting streak, Phillips batted .407 (66-for-162) with 17 home runs and 45 RBI.

In 1998, Phillips was named the Sporting News National Player of the Week (April 1, 1998), after hitting .500 (8-of-16) with six runs scored, three home runs and 11 RBI in wins over Southern Mississippi and Mississippi State.

Phillips was just as successful off the field, earning his degree from Alabama in 1999, while being an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and is an accomplished singer. Twice during his career, Phillips sang the National Anthem prior to a Crimson Tide home game at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. A three-time All-SEC selection, Phillips also was named to the 1999 SEC Good Works Team for his many hours of community service.

Following an 11-year professional baseball career, which included five seasons in Major League Baseball, Phillips returned to Alabama as the hitting and infield coach, beginning with the 2011 season. His MLB debut came in 2004 for the New York Yankees and he homered on the first pitch he saw as a Major League player. Phillips played for the Yankees from 2004-07, before playing his final season in the majors with the Cincinnati Reds in 2008. Prior to returning to Alabama, he played two seasons in the Nippon Professional League in Japan.

2002 JOHNNY BENCH AWARD - JEREMY BROWN

The most decorated catcher in University of Alabama baseball history, Jeremy Brown was named the winner of the 2002 Johnny Bench Award, presented annually by the Greater Wichita Area Sports Commission to the nation's best catcher.

"The Greater Wichita Sports Commission would like to congratulate all of the award finalists and especially Jeremy Brown, the 2002 Johnny Bench National Collegiate Catcher of the Year," Bob Hanson, President and CEO of the Greater Wichita Sports Commission, said. "Jeremy represents the University of Alabama in a remarkable manner."

Brown edged out Southern California junior Alberto Concepcion and University of Houston junior Chris Snyder to win the 2002 award.

Brown said upon receiving the 2002 Johnny Bench Award. "I'd like to thank my family and my coaches for all of their support over the past four years. It's truly an honor to receive this award from the best catcher of all time, Mr. Johnny Bench."

It is the highest honor awarded to an Alabama baseball player since David Magadan earned the 1983 Golden Spikes Award, presented annually to the best player in college baseball. The Golden Spikes award is the baseball equivalent to college football's Heisman Trophy award.

Bench, a native of Oklahoma City, and Major League Baseball Hall of Famer, was on hand to present the award to Brown. Bench was the starting catcher for the Cincinnati Reds back-to-back World Series championship teams in 1975 and 1976.

Former Los Angeles Dodger first baseman Steve Garvey delivered the keynote address to more than 350 people in attendance at the Grand Eagle Ballroom at the downtown Wichita Hyatt Regency hotel. The banquet recognizes the achievements and dedication of local youth, high school, college and professional coaches in the Wichita area. Alabama head coach Jim Wells was also in attendance to see his All-American catcher receive the award, symbolizing the best college catcher in the nation.

A two-year starter behind the plate for Alabama, Brown was a runner up to Baylor's Kelly Shoppach in the 2001 Johnny Bench Award voting. Brown is one of four Southeastern Conference catchers to win the Johnny Bench Award, joining LSU's Brad Cresse, who won the inaugural award in 2000, Mississippi State's Ed Easley in 2007, and Florida's Mike Zunino in 2012.

A native of Hueytown, Ala., Brown appeared in 66 games for Alabama as a senior and hit a .320 average (70-for-219) with 11 home runs and 64 RBI. He also set the Alabama single-season record with 69 walks, surpassing the previous total of 66 walks held by Bret Elbin in 1983.

Brown made only one error for Alabama in his final 119 games at the Capstone. He set the Tide single-season record with a 1.000 fielding percentage in 2001 and made only one error in 2002.

Brown was second in the SEC with seven pickoffs and ranked among the league leaders by throwing out 43 percent of his attempted base stealers.

A first-round pick of the Oakland Athletics, Brown concluded his career at Alabama as the all-time leader for games played (251), games started (251), runs scored (244), walks (207) and putouts (1,660). He still remains as the only player in SEC history to collect 300 career hits (307) and 200 career walks (207).

Named a 2002 second team All-American by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association, Brown also was a first team All-SEC pick for the second consecutive year. He was also chosen as the District III Player of the Year by the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association and was a finalist for the 2002 Dick Howser Trophy, presented by the St. Petersburg Area Chamber of Commerce and Verizon.

2003 DISTRICT III PLAYER OF THE YEAR - BEAU HEAROD

Beau Hearod went where few University of Alabama players had gone before. The slugger from Jennings, La., had a phenomenal 2003 season and in the process led the Southeastern Conference in both home runs (20) and RBI (82) in his final campaign with the Crimson Tide.

A first team All-SEC selection, Hearod became the first Alabama player to lead the SEC in home runs since Doug Duke smacked a league-leading 27 four-baggers as a junior in 1986. Hearod became the fourth player in school history to lead the league in home runs, joining Stan Moss (7, 1968), Butch Hobson (13, 1973) and Duke as the league's home run champ. Hearod also was the first Crimson Tide slugger to lead the league in RBI since Duke's league-best 82 in 1986.

After putting up those staggering numbers during the rugged 62-game season, which included 34 games against SEC teams, Hearod was tabbed as the District III Player of the Year by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association, marking the second consecutive year and the third time since the inception of the award in 1999 that an Alabama player has been bestowed the top in District III.

Former Alabama catcher Jeremy Brown, a first round draft selection by the Oakland Athletics in 2002 and the 2002 Johnny Bench award winner, was named the 2002 District III Player of the Year following an outstanding senior season. Andy Phillips, the school's all-time home run leader, won the inaugural District III Player of the Year award in 1999 and was one of the three finalists for the prestigious Dick Howser Trophy, presented to the NCBWA Player of the Year.

Other 2003 district winners included Boston College pitcher Chris Lambert (District I), St. John's outfielder Mike Rozema (District II), South Carolina lefty David Marchbanks (District IV), Ohio State pitcher Scott Lewis (District V), Nebraska first baseman Matt Hooper (District VI), Tulane first baseman and left hand pitcher Michael Aubrey (District VII) and Southern University shortstop Rickie Weeks (District VII), New Mexico first baseman Billy Belcher (District VIII) and Arizona State shortstop Dustin Pedroia (District IX).

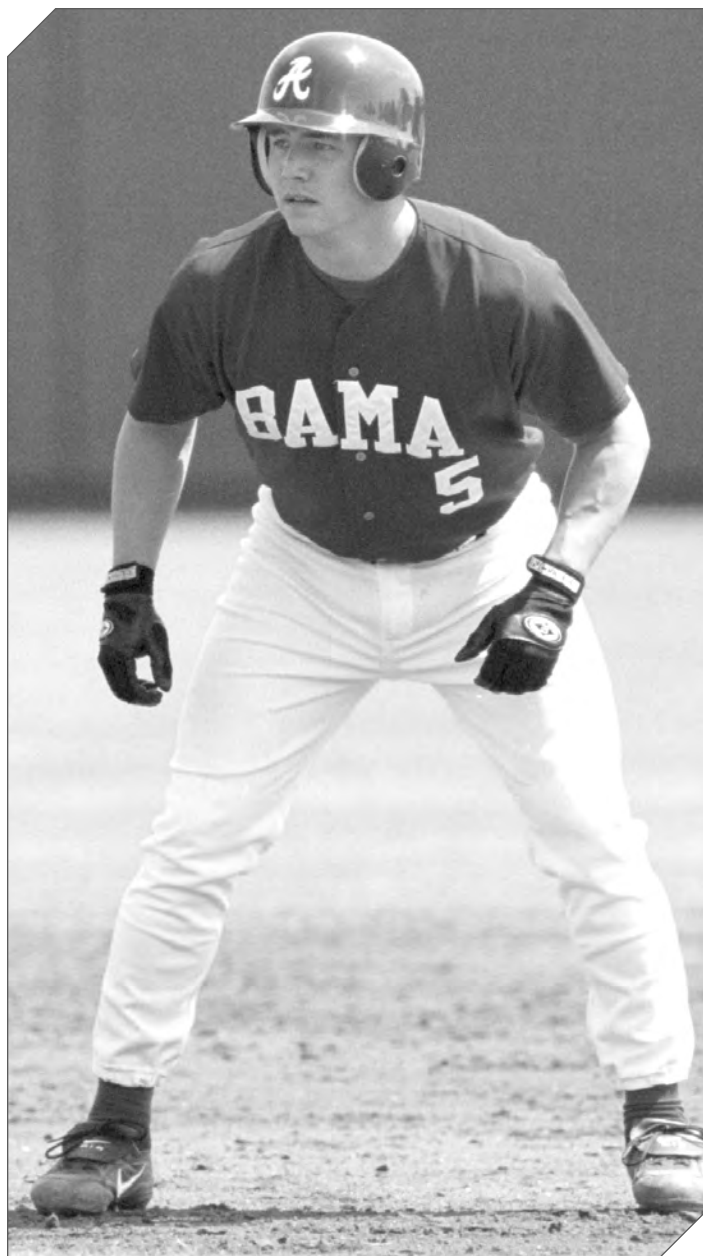

From the ranks of these 10 District winners, Southern University's Rickie Weeks was named the winner of the 2003 Dick Howser Trophy.

As a senior, Hearod started all 62 games and batted .346 (80-for-231) with 20 home runs and 82 RBI. He was also named the Most Valuable Player of the 2003 SEC Tournament at the Hoover Met, leading the Crimson Tide to its second straight postseason title and sixth under coach Jim Wells.

Hearod ranked ninth nationally in home runs (20) and 17th nationally with 0.32 home runs per game. He was sixth in total RBI and ninth with 1.32 RBI per game. He also led the SEC and ranked 27th nationally with a whopping .719 slugging percentage.

In his three-year career with Alabama, Hearod played in 177 games and batted .327 (210-for-643) with 40 home runs and 191 RBI. He also totaled 141 runs scored, 43 doubles, five triples, 61 walks and a .595 career slugging mark.

He wrapped up his Alabama career with five grand slams, one shy of the school, SEC and NCAA record set by the Tide's Mike Pitisci in 1984.

2004 COLLEGIATE BASEBALL NEWSPAPER/SEC FRESHMAN OF THE YEAR - WADE LEBLANC

Wade LeBlanc had a freshman season like no other in the 111-year history of the University of Alabama baseball program.

The talented freshman left-hander racked up just about every postseason award available as he became the first rookie in Crimson Tide baseball history to earn National and SEC Freshman of the Year honors.

LeBlanc was tabbed the 2004 National Freshman of the Year by Collegiate Baseball newspaper after being named the 2004 SEC Freshman of the Year at the conclusion of the regular season.

LeBlanc's turning point in the season was the back-to-back wins against No. 6 LSU and No. 10 Florida in early May. He beat LSU 8-2 on May 1 in Baton Rouge and then shut out the high-powered Gators in Tuscaloosa on May 7, allowing only four hits and striking out nine batters.

"I guess the LSU and Florida games back-to-back really told me what kind of season I was having," LeBlanc said. "This whole season was crazy, I never thought I would have a year like this and be named National and SEC Freshman of the Year. This is a great honor."

LeBlanc finished his outstanding freshman season by setting Alabama freshman records for innings pitched (112.2), strikeouts (98) and complete games (8) while tying the Alabama freshman record with eight wins.

In 16 games, including 15 starts, LeBlanc posted an 8-4 record and 2.08 ERA. He worked 112.2 innings and allowed 87 hits, 37 runs and 26 earned runs, with 26 walks and 98 strikeouts. LeBlanc also threw eight complete games and pitched three shutouts in 2004.

In addition to his freshman records, LeBlanc also ranks among the school's top 10 single-season leaders in several categories. His eight complete games tied Gene Lary (1955) for second place on the school's single-season list. The three shutouts matched Mike Innes (1968) and Drew Blocker (1974) for third-place on the single-season shutout charts. LeBlanc's 112.2 innings pitched tied Dean Hayes (1983) for seventh place on the single-season innings while the 98 strikeouts tied Jarrod Kingrey (1998) and Steve Shoemaker (1994) for 10th place.

LeBlanc was tabbed a third team All-American by both the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association (NCBWA) and Baseball America. He was the only freshman named to the 2004 Baseball America All-America team. LeBlanc also was named to the 2004 SEC All-Freshman team and was a second team All-SEC selection as voted by the league's 12 head coaches.

SEBaseball.com tabbed also tabbed him as the 2004 SEC Freshman of the Year as well as a first team All-SEC selection. He also was selected to the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) All-South Region team.

LeBlanc was drafted by the San Diego Padres in the second round of the 2006 MLB Amateur Draft. He made his Major League debut on Sept. 8, 2008 for the Padres. Through the 2011 season, LeBlanc had appeared in 54 games, 52 as a starter, with a 17-22 overall record in four years with the Padres. He spent the 2012 season in the Miami Marlins organization. After starting the year in triple-A, LeBlanc made 25 appearances with nine Major League starts. He was 2-5 with a 3.67 ERA in his first season with the Marlins. For his MLB career, LeBlanc is 19-27 with a 4.38 ERA in 362 innings pitched, making 79 appearances with 61 starts while striking out 248 batters.

2009 SEC PLAYER OF THE YEAR - KENT MATTHES

Alabama right fielder Kent Matthes wrapped up a remarkable senior season by winning Southeastern Conference Player of the Year honors and being tabbed a consensus All-American. Matthes is the first Alabama player to win SEC Player of the Year honors since the league began presenting the award in 1993.

"Kent Matthes had a great year and deserves this honor," Alabama head coach Jim Wells said. "It has been great to sit in the dugout and watch him do the things he has done this year. He has had a great year and put up some incredible numbers. You read sometimes about guys having years like this, but he usually isn't on your team. This year we have that player and it has been fun watching him on and off the field."

Matthes was also named first team All-American by every baseball publication, including the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA), Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball, the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA), Rivals and PING.

"It is a great honor to be recognized by the best college baseball league with all the talented players we have in the SEC," Matthes said. "It is an honor to be named SEC Player of the Year and to be able to accomplish the feat as a senior. This has been an incredible season and I am happy to be a part of this team."

"I was looking to take advantage of my senior year and make the most of it," said Matthes. "I worked hard in the off-season with Dax (Norris), got hot early, hit a lot of home runs and they kept coming. I tried to stay focused on winning each game and not the stats."

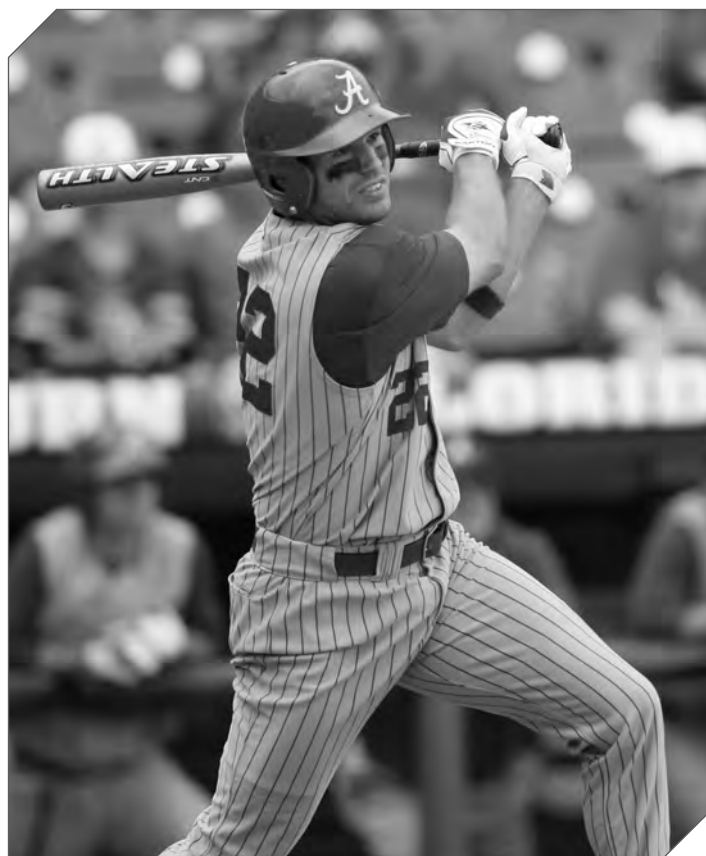

The senior was named the 2009 NCBWA District III Player of the Year, was a finalist for the Golden Spikes Award, a semifinalist for the Dick Howser Trophy and a member of the ABCA All-South Region team. The Orlando native hit .358 with 28 home runs and 81 RBI for the Crimson Tide. He led the SEC in home runs, RBI, total bases (174) and slugging percentage (.883). He was also third in runs scored (65) and sixth in hitting.

Matthes set the Alabama single-season record with 28 home runs, which tied for the national home run lead with Middle Tennessee State's Bryce Brentz. Matthes is the fifth NCAA statistical national champion in school history. He broke the Alabama single-season home run record with his 28th home run against South Carolina on May 20 at the SEC Tournament. He slugged his 27th home run of the season in the Tide's regular season finale at Auburn on May 16 to tie Doug Duke's record set in 1986.

The 2009 home run barrage from Matthes included four multi-home run games and one walk-off home run while 16 of his 28 home runs tied the game or gave Alabama the lead (10 go-ahead home runs). He also has nine game-winning RBI in 2009.

Matthes also set the Alabama record with a home run in six straight games and twice was named National and SEC Player of the Week. He hit for the cycle on Feb. 24 against Nicholls State and followed with a walkoff 10th inning home run the next day.

Drafted by the Colorado Rockies in the fourth round of the 2009 MLB Amateur Draft, Matthes was named the 2011 California League's Most Valuable Player for the class A Modesto Nuts after an outstanding season at the plate. He finished the 2011 season with a .334 average, 23 home runs, 39 doubles and 95 RBI. Matthes spent the 2012 season in double-A, playing for the Tulsa Drillers where he hit .214 with 17 home runs, 18 doubles and 40 RBI.

Jim Wells and Skip Bertman have combined to win 12 SEC Tournament championships and lead all SEC coaches with six tournament titles each.

SEC TOURNAMENT HISTORY:

Alabama has compiled a 52-47 (.525) all-time SEC Tournament record, dating back to its first appearance in the 1950 SEC Playoffs, a best-of-five series win over Kentucky, the SEC Eastern Division champion. The Crimson Tide is 44-36 (.550) since the league moved to an SEC Tournament format in 1977.

In SEC Tournament games at the Hoover Met (formerly Regions Park), Alabama is 32-18 (.640) with four SEC postseason titles in 1996, 1999, 2002 and 2003.

The Crimson Tide is 7-1 in eight SEC Tournament championship games, winning the title against five different teams. Following a 4-3 loss to LSU in the 2010 SEC championship game, Alabama is 3-1 in the deciding game against the Tigers. Alabama defeated LSU to win the SEC Tournament championship in 1995, 1997 and 2002. The Tide also has championship game wins over Mississippi State (1993), Florida (1996), Arkansas (1999) and South Carolina (2002).

The Southeastern Conference Baseball Tournament will be held at Hoover Metropolitan Stadium from May 21-26, 2013. This is the 16th consecutive year the tournament has been played in Hoover and the 18th time overall.

The 2013 SEC Baseball Tournament will increase from 10 to 12 teams. Seeds 5-12 will meet in a single-elimination format on the opening day of the tournament, followed by traditional double-elimination play Wednesday-Friday, before returning to single-elimination play on Saturday and Sunday. A total of 17 games will be played over the six days.

The 12 teams will be seeded 1-12, with the two divisional champions and top four seeds guaranteed opening-round byes, with the possibility of earning another bye later in the bracket. The tournament field will include the top teams from the SEC's Eastern and Western divisions, plus 10 at-large bids seeded 3-12 based on conference winning percentage.

The tournament began in 1977 with the first and second-place teams from the Eastern and Western divisions meeting at campus sites to determine the league's automatic bid into the NCAA Tournament. In 1986, the SEC abandoned divisional play and the top four teams in the league standings qualified for the postseason tournament at campus sites. The 1990 SEC Tournament was played at the Hoover Met, the first off-campus tournament in league history.

The format remained the same until the league expanded to 12 teams in 1992, adding Arkansas and South Carolina. In 1992, the league went back to divisional play and invited the top four teams from each division to the SEC Tournament at the Superdome in New Orleans.

The SEC instituted another change in 1993, as the league had two separate divisional tournaments over the next three years. The overall SEC champion and NCAA automatic qualifier was the team with the best conference combined winning percentage from the regular season and postseason tournaments. Alabama won the SEC Western Division tournament in Starkville in 1995, the first of three straight tournament titles for the Tide.

The 1996 and 1997 tournaments were eight-team events in Hoover and Columbus, Ga., respectively but those events introduced one-game play-ins. Prior to the expansion to 10 teams in 2012, an eight-team double-elimination format was used for 14 years (1998-2011).

Alabama is second all-time with seven SEC Tournament titles, most recently in 2003. LSU leads the way with 10 SEC Tournament championships, including back-to-back titles in 2009 and 2010. Overall, nine of the 14 SEC teams have won at least one SEC Tournament crown since 1977.

After John Cohen led Mississippi State to the tournament title in 2012, 19 different head coaches have won at least one SEC Tournament championship. Former Alabama head coach Jim Wells and former LSU coach Skip Bertman have the most all time with six championships, while former Mississippi State head coach Ron Polk won five tournament titles. Florida has the most coaches to win the SEC Tournament with four, including Jay Bergman (1981), Jack Rhine (1982), Joe Arnold (1984, 1988 and 1991) and Kevin O'Sullivan (2011).

Hoover Metropolitan Stadium will host its 16th consecutive SEC Baseball Tournament in 2013, the 18th overall at the Hoover, Ala., location.

Alabama has been involved in the two largest championship game crowds in tournament history. The Tide's 9-3 win over Arkansas in the 1999 SEC Championship game on May 23 drew 16,165 fans, the largest crowd in tournament history and second-largest crowd in Hoover Met annals. The Tide's 6-2 win over South Carolina on May 26, 2002, drew 13,367 fans, the second-largest for a title game in tournament lore.

Hoover Met seats 10,800 for baseball, but can accommodate more than 16,000 when the patio, banquet and side grassy areas are used. The stadium also houses 12 suites and state-of-the-art dressing and training rooms. Wireless internet access was added in 2004, concourse and signage renovation was done in 2005, and finally a second-level pressbox expansion, new stadium seating and an exterior facelift in 2007 completed a $4.5 million renovation project. A new video scoreboard was added in 2008.

The SEC will keep its conference baseball tournament in suburban Birmingham through 2016.

FORMAT AND SEEDING

The 12-team tournament will consist of two six-team brackets. The two bracket winners will play in a single championship game on Sunday. Seeding for the SEC Tournament is based on each team's winning percentage during the SEC regular season. The division champions shall be automatically seeded No. 1 and No. 2, based on winning percentage in conference competition. The rest shall be seeded No. 3 through No. 12 based on conference winning percentage. Once a team is seeded, it shall maintain that same seeded position throughout the tournament.

TIE-BREAKERS

Two-Team Tie

When two teams are tied for a finish, the following procedure will be used (in order until the tie is broken):

1. Won-lost results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.
2. If they are divisional opponents:
 - a. Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 15-game SEC division schedule).
 - b. Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 6 team, if necessary).
3. If two teams are not divisional opponents:
 - a. Won-lost record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 8 seed, if necessary).
4. Coin flip by the Commissioner.

Three-Team Tie (or more)

When three or more teams are tied for a finish, the following procedure will be used (in order until the tie is broken).

Note: If the three tied teams have three different records against each other, they shall be seeded in best-percentage order. Otherwise, once the three-team tie is broken, the two-team tie-breaker will be used.

1. If all three teams are common opponents: Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.
2. Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 8 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.
3. If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.

Tom Roberts
Director of
Broadcasting, CTSN

Chris Stewart
Play-By-Play

Lee Tracey
Play-By-Play

All the exciting action of Alabama baseball can be heard throughout the 2013 season on the Crimson Tide Sports Network.

The baseball network is a service of Crimson Tide Sports Marketing, which is a joint venture of Learfield Communications of Jefferson City, Missouri, and International Sports Properties, based in Winston Salem, N.C. Jim Carabin serves as the network's general manager, while Tom Roberts is the director of broadcasting.

For the 15th consecutive season, CTSN will carry the Crimson Tide baseball games on a state-wide network. The games also are available on the internet and select Southeastern Conference games will be aired on XM Satellite Radio. The family of stations in Birmingham and Tuscaloosa will serve as the network's flagship stations. In Birmingham, the stations include WJOX-FM (94.5) and WJOX-AM (690). The Tuscaloosa affiliate is WFNN-FM 95.3, with backup coverage from WTSK-AM 790.

Alabama baseball is also the topic of conversation each Monday night from 6-7 p.m. on the popular weekly call-in show "Hey, Coach!" Roberts hosts the program and chats with head coach Mitch Gaspard and Alabama players each Monday night throughout the season. The show airs live from Buffalo Wild Wings in Tuscaloosa. Fans can join the program by calling toll free (877) 202.2262.

The Crimson Tide's unique 30-minute weekly sports magazine television program, "Crimson Tide This Week," shows highlights, interviews and previews on the Crimson Tide baseball team all season.

Chris Stewart and Lee Tracey will call the exciting action of Alabama baseball this season on the 30-plus station network.

A veteran play-by-play voice, Stewart enters his 14th season on the Tide baseball broadcasts. He is a four-time (2004, 2007, 2008 and 2009) Alabama Sportscaster of the Year recipient by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association (NSSA).

Stewart is in his 24th year in broadcasting, with the 2012-13 men's basketball season being his 11th as the play-by-play announcer for the Crimson Tide Sports Network. In addition to his role as the voice of Crimson Tide basketball, Stewart also serves as the sideline reporter for CTSN's radio coverage of Crimson Tide football and as the television host of "The Nick Saban Show".

Prior to taking over the Alabama basketball play-by-play job, the Fairfield native spent eight seasons as the radio announcer for Birmingham Southern College.

Stewart has done additional work for CSS, ESPN Regional, and Fox Sports South.

A 1992 graduate of the University of Montevallo, Stewart was honored with the school's 2009 Alumni Achievement Award. He is married to the former Christy Carmichael and has three children – Anne, Parker and Hudson.

Lee Tracey, a veteran sports broadcaster in Alabama, returns for his third season calling the action for the Alabama baseball team for CTSN.

Prior to the 2011 season, Tracey provided play-by-play for Alabama baseball two different times in the past - once in the late 1980s and again from 1992-94. He also was the radio voice of Alabama women's basketball from 1992-94.

Tracey was the producer on Alabama football broadcasts for the Crimson Tide Sports Network from 1987-90 and was the sports anchor/director for WCFT-TV in Tuscaloosa from 1994-96.

Currently, Tracey is the owner and president of TOPsports, a company he's founded in 1996. TOPsports covers all Tuscaloosa area sports, including University of Alabama athletics and local high schools.

ALABAMA BASEBALL IS EXEMPLIFIED BY THE NOTION OF PLAYING HARD AND GETTING DIRTY. THE CRIMSON & WHITE UNIFORM REPRESENTS GENERATIONS OF HARD WORK, DEDICATION AND SCARIFICE. DIRT, SWEAT AND GRASS STAINS ARE THE TROPHIES FOR THOSE THAT HAVE OUTWORKED THE COMPETITION IN THE OFF-SEASON, OUTHUSTLED THEIR OPPONENT IN THE GAME, AND LEFT EVERYTHING THEY HAD ON THE FIELD. CRIMSON TIDE PLAYERS PROUDLY PLAY FOR THE NAME ON THE FRONT OF THE JERSEY. ALABAMA BASEBALL IS BUILT BY BAMA.
